

Youthful Offender Charges — Various Legal Opinions

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON
A new law, which would prevent youthful offenders from ever having to admit to arrest or conviction and which would supposedly throw up a wall of secrecy concerning the arrest, is producing various opinions among a number of Hudson Valley judges and lawyers.

The new law, which went into effect Sept. 1, allows the "public" record to be sealed from the moment a 16 to 19 year-old youth is accused of a crime.

Under the old law the determination a "youthful offender" designation was made before trial. Under the new ruling it is made only after conviction and at the time of sentencing.

The theory of sealing the record prevents the youthful offender from ever having to admit his arrest or conviction which could affect his rights of entry into the military, obtaining government work, or licensing for a profession.

Ulster County Judge Raymond J. Mino said he really didn't think that the amount of secrecy enveloping today's cases will be much different than before. He pointed out that when a grand jury indictment against a youth is handed up, it is done so in open court and the matter becomes public record until such time as the defendant is arraigned and consents to the sealing.

Concurring, Gardiner Town Justice Warren McDowell, a deputy clerk of County Court said it would be most difficult to suppress the crime for which a person is tried when there are 14 jurors and court officers and witness in a room.

Both village and town justices are also wondering how to impanel a jury and conduct a trial before them in private.

Judge Mino also explained that there are no sealed indictments in the case of young people.

An entirely different tact on the matter of secrecy has been taken by Dutchess County Judge Joseph Giudice who feels "we have lost our deterrent to teenage crime when such liberal legislation takes away what limited effect we had. He questioned the value of the increased secrecy when statistics point out that teenagers are responsible for about 50 per cent of all crimes.

He feels that publicizing such cases, including those of violence, could act as a deterrent for other youths planning similar acts.

Special

In approving the new law, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller explained that as a consequence of the shifting of the determination of youthful offender treatment to the time of the sentencing, only one probation report for sentencing purposes will be compiled, the delay and cost of unnecessary probation reports will be avoided and valuable probation resources will be conserved and more productively re-allocated.

At the same time he said, the elimination of the pre-pleading investigation and report, youthful offender proceedings will be expedited enabling the defendant and the people speedier disposition of the charges.

The new law also does away with the common thinking that a judge can give indeterminate sentences or the youth hasn't been given a trial. Numerous offenses and violations, including much off the traffic code, are not included for youthful offender treatment, but all misdemeanors and felonies are included. Traffic misdemeanors would gain youthful offender consideration.

If the judge decides that the defendant is not to be treated as a youthful offender, the records are unsealed and become public and the original, criminal status is reinstated.

Youths are eligible for consideration unless the charge is a Class A felony, such as murder, or he has been previously convicted of a felony.

McDowell, who has been a town justice for 16 years, feels that youthful offender status should be allowed but one time to a defendant.

If a youthful offender is found guilty by a jury or a judge, the court "must" then decide whether "to relieve an eligible youth of the onus of a criminal record."

In the lower level courts, below County and Supreme, the town or village justice is restricted considerably more than before in sentencing if the youth has never before been convicted of a crime or never had youthful offender treatment before.

After a pre-sentence investigation if the judge determines there is to be YO treatment, he removes the criminal conviction and a youthful offender finding is substituted. This limits sentencing to the original criminal penalty and the judge cannot give an indeterminate sentence.

In the lower courts, if without a prior crime or YO previously, the judge cannot give a reformatory sentence or a prison sentence of more than six months.

Even though sentenced as a YO, the youth is "not" a criminal nor has he been convicted or sentenced for a crime, or "any other offense."

Treatment as a YO is the regular courts' function and has nothing to do with child or Family Court matters.

Pathologists Confirm Deaths By Gunshot

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A autopsy report that nine slain hostages at Attica state prison died of gunshot wounds has been confirmed by two pathologists asked by the state to re-examine the bodies.

Dr. Henry Siegel, Westchester County medical examiner, said Sunday his findings had confirmed the report by Dr. John Edland, medical examiner for Monroe County. Edland's findings conflicted with earlier official statements that rebellious inmates at the maximum-security facility slit the throats of some of the hostages as a police assault began last Monday.

The New York Times said today that the second pathologist, Dr. Michael Baden, deputy chief medical examiner of New York City, also had confirmed Dr. Edland's findings.

The pathologists' statements are the latest official indications that nine of the 10 prison employees killed during the four-day uprising at the prison were killed by gunfire when police assaulted the rebel-held areas of the institution last Monday.

Gov. Rockefeller and Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald earlier had confirmed the autopsy findings of Dr. Edland. State officials have reported no evidence that prisoners had firearms during the rebellion.

One guard died of head injuries suffered during the prisoners' takeover, and 27 of the prisoners died of gunshot wounds during Monday's bloody end to the rebellion. The Times quoted Dr. Baden as saying that three inmates died of slashed throats a day or two before the assault.

Both Dr. Siegel and Dr. Baden praised Dr. Edland. "Edland did a very professional, top-notch job," Dr. Baden told the Times. "There are very few places in the United States that could have done it."

Dr. Siegel declined to give any further information on his findings, saying that would have to come from the state's Task Force on Organized Crime, which asked the two pathologists to undertake the re-examination.

But task force spokesman Edward Moran again refused Sunday to give specific answers to questions about the violence in the prison.

"The name of the game is to conduct our inquiry, our investigation, in secret," Moran said. "The name of the game is to secure an indictment and successful prosecution. I will say nothing more than that."

Lawyers for some of the prisoners refused to match Moran's reticence however. Several of them said prisoners were beaten after police put down the uprising.

Daniel Alterman and Joshua Roth of the National Lawyers' Guild told reporters that some prisoners were stripped and forced to crawl on hands and knees across a yard under threat of beatings after the rebellion was quelled. Several guards then beat the prisoners as they were led back into their cells, they said.

The comments from Moran and the lawyers came in separate news conferences Sunday at the gates of the sprawling institution.

A handful of reporters—the only ones remaining from the 300 who descended upon this small community last week—huddled under umbrellas in the drizzling rain.

In the community, American flags hung sullen from poles, church pastors pleaded for understanding, and outsiders were criticized.

"We know tragedy, we have tasted death and grief so intense and terrifying that it is part of our history now," the Rev. Charles F. Williman said in his sermon at St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

He told a reporter he was thinking of the press when he prayed "for those outsiders who have come here but have failed to grasp the depth of our grief."

The disturbance began a week ago Thursday when prisoners seized hostages from among prison employees. Police took back the prison Monday but 40 died—39 of them by gunshot wounds, medical examiners say.

The report of the medical examiners contradicted the earlier reports of state officials and added to the controversy over the use of force.

"There has been so much said this past week," Williman stated in his sermon, "one finds it almost impossible to say anything. There have been so many tears shed these past nine days that one finds it almost natural to want to cry."

Walter E. Hoffman, U. S. District Court Judge from Norfolk, Va.; George C. Young, U. S. District Court Judge from Orlando, Fla.; and Lewis F. Powell, attorney from Richmond, Va. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Another Court Vacancy Hinted As Nixon Studies Black Successor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today studied possible candidates for retiring Justice Hugo L. Black's seat on the Supreme Court, while speculation increased that another seat soon would be vacant.

Justice John M. Harlan, 72, entered Bethesda Naval Hospital in April for treatment of discomfort in his back, which has persisted for years. It was learned only last week that Harlan still was hospitalized.

Thursday he was transferred to George Washington University Hospital, which specializes in spinal disorders.

At least one report circulating said Harlan already had submitted his resignation. It could not be confirmed.

Black, 85, wrote a letter to Nixon that was hand-delivered to the White House Friday stating that he was stepping down because of ill health.

Nixon met with Attorney General John N. Mitchell and domestic advisor John D. Ehrlichman Saturday before flying to Camp David, Md., for the weekend to ponder a successor to Black.

There are seven contenders.

Two of them are not known, and the other five are believed to be:

—Charles S. Rhyne, Washington attorney, native of North Carolina, former President of the American Bar Association (ABA) and a classmate of Nixon at Duke University Law School.

—Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., the second ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee and considered one of the most able constitutional lawyers in the House.

—Lewis F. Powell, Jr., Richmond, Va., attorney and a former ABA president.

—Walter E. Hoffman, U.S.

District Court Judge from Norfolk, Va.

—George C. Young, U.S. District Court Judge from Orlando, Fla., whose latest decision declared that massive busing to achieve racial integration was not feasible for elementary schools in Orange County, Fla.

Nixon's first two appointees, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, are generally considered the most conservative members on the nine-man court.

If, as expected, Nixon appoints another conservative, the appointment would solidify a shift away from the judicial activism undertaken under the leadership of former Chief Justice Earl Warren—and generally supported by Black. Burger and Blackmun already command a one-vote majority on many issues.

Nixon has all but promised his next nominee will be a Southerner and, almost certainly, will be a strict constructionist—someone who believes the Constitution should be interpreted literally.

Poff's views are generally in tune with the President's, he is a Southerner, and at 47 would add a touch of youth to the aging court.

New County Party Chairman

McCardle: Democrats Unified

KINGSTON
James T. McCardle, who took over the reins of the Ulster County Democratic Party, in a 96 to 15 victory over his opponent, Frank Adams Saturday night, declared the party "unified saying it is 'refreshing to start off with such a base — with no division in the ranks at all."

McCardle succeeds Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein in the post. Klein, who was victorious over McCardle in the race for the chairmanship several years ago, did not seek another term.

The new party leader, who resides in Hurley, commenting on Saturday's committee meeting said "there was no blood-letting at all."

His plans for "rebuilding the Democratic Party" will be concentrated on the Committee level. "The organization is replete with vacancies and while we did fill some Saturday night, there is still a lot of work to do. Some towns have no Democratic representation at all and it will be my responsibility and that of the officers to correct this situation."

McCardle, who ran for the State Senate in 1960 and who is Democratic State Committeeman, intends to make the Democratic Party visible to the public, he said. "It is a question of getting the message of the Democratic Party to the people. We will concentrate on a structured publicity campaign geared to complete year round campaigning and not just limited to a month or so before election."

Calling finances a major part of his and other political party's problems, he said it will be necessary to raise funds to do all the things he envisions will improve the party posture. He is considering some new fundraising ideas such as Dollars for Democrats Day, auctions and cocktail parties. Rather than have just one major fund-raising event, he feels there should be something for all elements of the party in order that all may participate.

Referring to concentrated efforts to get 18 to 20 year olds to register to vote, McCardle said his party would make a strong effort next week to help the young people secure absentee ballots if they will be away from home on November 2.

"I am confident," he said, "that the more registrations of 18 to 20 year-olds there are, the more good it will be for the Democratic party, because they align themselves with us more easily than the opposition party."

Egyptian troops along the Suez Canal have been placed on a "maximum alert," the semi-official Middle East News Agency (MENA) said today.

A Cairo newspaper said the troops had orders to retaliate "immediately and violently" to silence any Israel position that opens fire on them.

MENA, an Egyptian news agency, said "the temperature of the military situation is constantly rising." It added that "Egyptian air, ground and naval forces are standing by on the greatest degree of alert to face any possibility the enemy might resort to."

Israel marked Rosh Hashonah the beginning of the Jewish New Year, with predictions the Middle East might be headed for war. Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said that "I would not be entirely surprised if at any time after the U.N. General Assembly the Egyptians will resume fire on the (Suez) Canal."

Israel Armed Forces Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev said "it is possible ... our enemies will renew the fighting, in which case we shall need to continue to stand firm and smite them ..."

In Cairo, the mass-circulation newspaper Al Akhbar said orders were issued by Egyptian War Minister Gen. Mohammed Ahmed Sadek calling for "retaliating violently and immediately and silencing any Israeli position that opens fire with ground weapons, such as field artillery, or any other weapons."

MENA, in an article by its military editor, said the Egyptian army "is prepared more than at any other time to wage the battle of honor, integrity and purification of the land which the enemy has desecrated."

In Cairo, Egyptian President

City of Kingston in the Nov. 2 election, he thinks perhaps the Democrats may also pick up a few more spots on town boards.

Also elected by acclamation at the party meeting were Mrs. Rose Hogan, incumbent vice-chairman; Mrs. Peggy Johnson, secretary and Richard Sicker, treasurer.

Klein presided at the meeting attended by 175 persons, 111 of whom voted. After the election, McCardle took over the gavel. The new chairman is a former Kingston City Democratic chairman and has served as Town of Hurley Democratic chairman. He was a Ninth Ward supervisor in Kingston for six years and is employed by IBM.

A Korean veteran, he served in the United States Air Force from April 1951 to October 1953 with 18 months overseas.

$228,300 for County Jobs

KINGSTON
Ulster County will receive an additional $228,300 in federal funds under the Emergency Employment Act designed to create jobs in areas of high unemployment across the country.

Announcement of the additional funds was made by the office of Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., today. The money is in addition to a $480,000 grant received by Ulster County in August.

A spokesman for the Congressman said that Ulster County was awarded the additional funds from the Department of Labor because county unemployment exceeds the six per cent mark. The money will be used to create public service jobs for unemployed county residents.

In Jerusalem, a terrorist Sunday hurled a grenade into a group of American tourists and Arab children in the old section of the city, killing a 4-year-old Arab girl and wounding seven of the Americans. The Americans were members of a Baptist group from Texas, Illinois and Colorado. All the injured were released after first-aid treatment.

State Dems Back Con Demands

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Twenty-eight demands for prison reform made by rebellious Attica inmates were endorsed over the weekend by the Democratic state committee.

The Democrats went on record favoring all the demands made by the prisoners except those for total amnesty and the removal of the Attica warden. The resolution passed with all but four of the nearly 100 committee members supporting it.

State Sen. Waldaba Stewart, a black lawmaker from Brooklyn, who authored the resolution, said the demands were "just prison reform for which the prisoners and hostages died."

Talmud Torah Sets Classes

KINGSTON — The Talmud Torah of Kingston board of directors selected officers and revised class schedules at an organizational meeting this week.

The revised schedule of classes will be Mondays and Thursdays Hebrew Classes from 3:45 to 5:15 for ages 8 to 13 and Sundays Religious School 10 to 11:30 a.m. for ages 6 to 15. Classes will start Monday, Oct. 18 in the Congregation Ahavath Israel classroom.

Officers are Mrs. Marvin Millens and Alvin Parnett, co-chairmen; Ira Trast, budget and finance; Mrs. Burt Feit, treasurer; Mrs. Michael Weiner, publicity; Mrs. Ira Shaw, social activities and Mrs. Harry Harding, corresponding secretary.

The Talmud Torah of Kingston is the co-ordinated Jewish education program of Congregation Ahavath Israel and Congregation Agudas Achim. Temporary chairman at the board meeting was Arthur Schiff.

Several however, including Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Mayor John V. Lindsay indicated they believed Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller should have gone to Attica to direct the state's action.

Lindsay made his political debut before the committee and was welcomed warmly by old time party leaders and enthusiastically by younger Democrats. While nearly all the 300 Democrats at the meeting welcomed the mayor into the party, many said he had to prove his party credentials before seeking the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

The resolution backing the Attica prisoner demands came in the closing hours of the committee's two day meeting on Saturday.

"I charge the state and the legislature with the deaths of all those who died at Attica. We knew last year these injustices existed; we knew there would be a rebellion of this type," Stewart said.

"The prisoners were saying 'give me rehabilitation or give me death,'" Stewart said. "Either we should lock them up for life or, if we're going to turn them loose on the streets, we should turn them loose better than they went in."

"When they get called 'Spic' or 'Nigger' they come out more hostile than when they went in," Stewart said.

William Flynn, a committee member from Buffalo, proposed that the Stewart resolution be tabled until the "facts are found out" about what happened at Attica.

Flynn's proposal was overwhelmingly defeated as were proposals to delete from the demands references to censoring of mail and the removal of screens between prisoners and their visitors.

The committee is meeting to consider planks for the party's 1972 presidential campaign platform. Stewart proposed earlier that the prisoners demands be included in the platform. No action on any platform proposals will be taken until early next year.

Stewart said he personally favored the removal of Mancusi but he did not believe that should be confused with the need for prison reform.

Fire Hits Binnewater Home

BINNEWATER — Firefighters from this community, Hurley and Bloomington combined efforts in battling a blaze of undetermined origin that swept through a large two-story wooden frame house on Binnewater Road at Lucas Avenue Extension Sunday night.

Chief Michael Doria of the local department, who was in command of more than 30 firemen at the scene, reported the vacant house was engulfed in flames when the first firemen arrived. Six pieces of fire apparatus, including three from Binnewater were used as men fought the flames.

Doria reported that the owner of the property is not known. He explained that the house had been unoccupied for the last few months and it was reported that the building had apparently been used as quarters for squatters.

Two women had been seen by nearby residents going in and out of the house recently.

The fire was discovered and reported to authorities by residents shortly before 8 p.m. All fire units reported back in service to the County Mutual Aid before 11:30 p.m.

Rosendale fire units were on standby alert at Binnewater firehouse until firemen from this district returned to quarters.

Several Hurt in Area Mishaps

By WALTER S. CLARK

WOODSTOCK — A 22-year-old man was injured Sunday night in a spectacular traffic accident that occurred on the Wittenberg Road near this community. Several other persons were injured in unrelated highway mishaps in the area over the weekend.

Injured in the Wittenberg Road accident was Stanley Longyear, of Box 574, Woodstock. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance and treated for injuries of the head, face and arms, it was reported.

According to available information from an ambulance attendant the vehicle went out of control and crashed into a tree alongside the highway.

Five New Jersey residents were injured Saturday shortly after 9:30 a.m., when the car contusions and abrasions: Rose Pollifrone, 53, of Jersey City, who suffered a fractured right arm, broken left wrist and other injuries; Josephine Cirillo, 74, of Jersey City, who sustained injuries of the head and pelvis; Theresa Pollifrone, 27, of Jersey City, who received a chest and arm injury; and Armand Pollifrone, 53, of Jersey City, who suffered a fractured right arm, broken left wrist and other injuries.

Another weekend traffic accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. Saturday on Route 28 at the traffic circle in the Town of Ulster. Hurley State Police said William Kieffer, 37, of 67 Lafayette Avenue, this city, was driving a 1968 pickup truck approaching the traffic circle when the vehicle reportedly hit and knocked down a utility pole, causing a power shortage.

A report of Trooper Norman Kilfoyle noted that Kieffer was subsequently taken into custody after a police checked a registration number of the truck provided by passersby. Kieffer was taken before Ulster Town Justice Sherwood E. Davis who straightened and explained that this adjourned hearing until Sept. 29. Primary was for the Conserva-

A Central Hudson crew was dispatched to the scene to replace the pole and restore power service to the area.

Saugerties' building boom was started by a "Mystery Man," the Little Sawyer (an Open Secret).

Since 1871, we've helped promote it with First Mortgages. Over 5,100 to date. Maybe you should get in on the boom.

After the sawmill that gave the Town its name, came good, solid Dutch homesteads, 5 still standing — churches — a dam — quarries — factories. Today, more building than ever.

For 100 years, we've been a part of all this Saugerties progress. So perhaps you could use some Saugerties Savings experience. And financial help.

Like a full range of Conventional, FHA, and G.I. loans — for buying or selling, building or modernizing every kind of real estate. Plus short term Home Improvement loans for repair, remodeling, renovation.

A talk with Saugerties Savings costs you nothing — and could lower your building costs in many ways. And don't forget, we also specialize in building savings.

Hot Times in Offing for the United Nations

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

With Red China now apparently assured of seats in the General Assembly and the Security Council, it seems likely that hot times are ahead for the United Nations.

Over the years, Peking has been one of the organization's severest critics. It would be far from surprising if the Red Chinese, after feeling their way about, proceeded with a campaign that would attempt to place the so-called Third World in conflict with the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, in a study called "Issues before the 26th General Assembly," sees a possibility that Peking will assume the role of champion and protector of small nations against alleged machinations by the Russians and Americans.

This might mean, it adds, that "the two superpowers might be forced to change their indifferent attitude toward the smaller states, in order to maintain their own influence in the United Nations."

For example, China could demand that disarmament talks no longer be the exclusive province of the big powers. Peking could insist that a commission be set up to include smaller nations, perhaps a large number of them, to talk about such things as disarmament and nuclear weapons. That might not enhance the chances for any meaningful agreement, but it would be a great opportunity for Peking politicking.

The Middle East is included in the area which Premier Chou En-lai calls the "medium and small nations." Red China long has been poking about the edges of that chronic crisis and giving aid and propaganda support to some Arab organizations.

As a U.N. member, Red China could thrust herself more forcefully in the Middle East situation. It could insist that the four power talks be converted to five power talks.

During the cultural revolution, when Red China had no real interest in getting into the United Nations, Peking insisted it would pose tough demands before even considering membership. It would demand expulsion of the Nationalists entirely, the lifting of the "aggressor" brand placed on the Red Chinese in connection with the Korean conflict, and the drastic reshuffling of the U.N. organizational structure.

After the cultural revolution subsided Peking muted those demands. It continued to criticize what it called the superpowers' "voting machine" and pictured the United Nations as a site for backstage collusion between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Now, however, China might decide to forget about the more radical demands and concentrate on the real opportunities.

Armed with the veto power of a permanent member, Peking could immobilize the Security Council at will to thwart any peacekeeping effort or prevent any meaningful action. Or, if it chose, it could throw weighty support behind small nations and try to force strong action in certain circumstances.

The Carnegie Endowment study points out that Peking will have strong influence in the selection of a successor to U Thant, the secretary general who is retiring soon. Any candidate probably must have Red Chinese approval to make the grade.

These will be only a few of the possibilities ahead as Red China, for the first time, takes her place as the representative of a quarter of mankind.

$40 Million in Heroin Seized

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal agents, in predawn arrests Sunday, seized $40 million worth of heroin hidden in a Jaguar sedan and arrested five persons. The car had been imported into the city four days before.

The 1971 beige sedan had been under surveillance since it was unloaded from the liner Queen Elizabeth 2 Sept. 15. About 40 agents stood by bridges and tunnels leading off the island to block any escape as authorities closed in Sunday.

The car, its driver, and two 1968 agents seized 246 pounds of heroin. Fifteen agents were trailing also were arrested. They were the Jaguar, driven by Luis Jean P.A. Hugen, 36, of Gomez Ortega, 37, when it stalled after leaving a garage in the vicinity of Madison Square Garden. "We decided it was best to go in at that point," said Regional Narcotics Bureau Director Jerry H. Jenson. "We had people scattered in the areas of exits of Manhattan. We expected them to take the car to a garage where they would have to cut it open."

Two men in a tail car, riding shotgun for the drug-laden auto, were also arrested. They were Jean P.A. Hugen, 36, of

Major Test For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Department possible legal action in 20 to 25 cases. Recent indexes of the nation's economic performance are mixed and overall not particularly encouraging, still largely reflecting pre-freeze conditions.

Connally shook up his foreign colleagues with a hard-nosed demand: help in achieving a $13 billion improvement in the U.S. balance of payments.

He would not buy a proposal from other countries for priority discussion of a short list of items, including the price of gold and removal of the surcharge. And with that position set, the meeting broke up. Another is scheduled for Oct. 25.

In Washington, the House Ways and Means Committee today begins the closed door, rolled-up-sleeves phase of its work on Nixon's tax recommendations. Indications were it will approve the general outline, but with major modifications, including a $2 billion shift of tax relief from business to low-earning individuals.

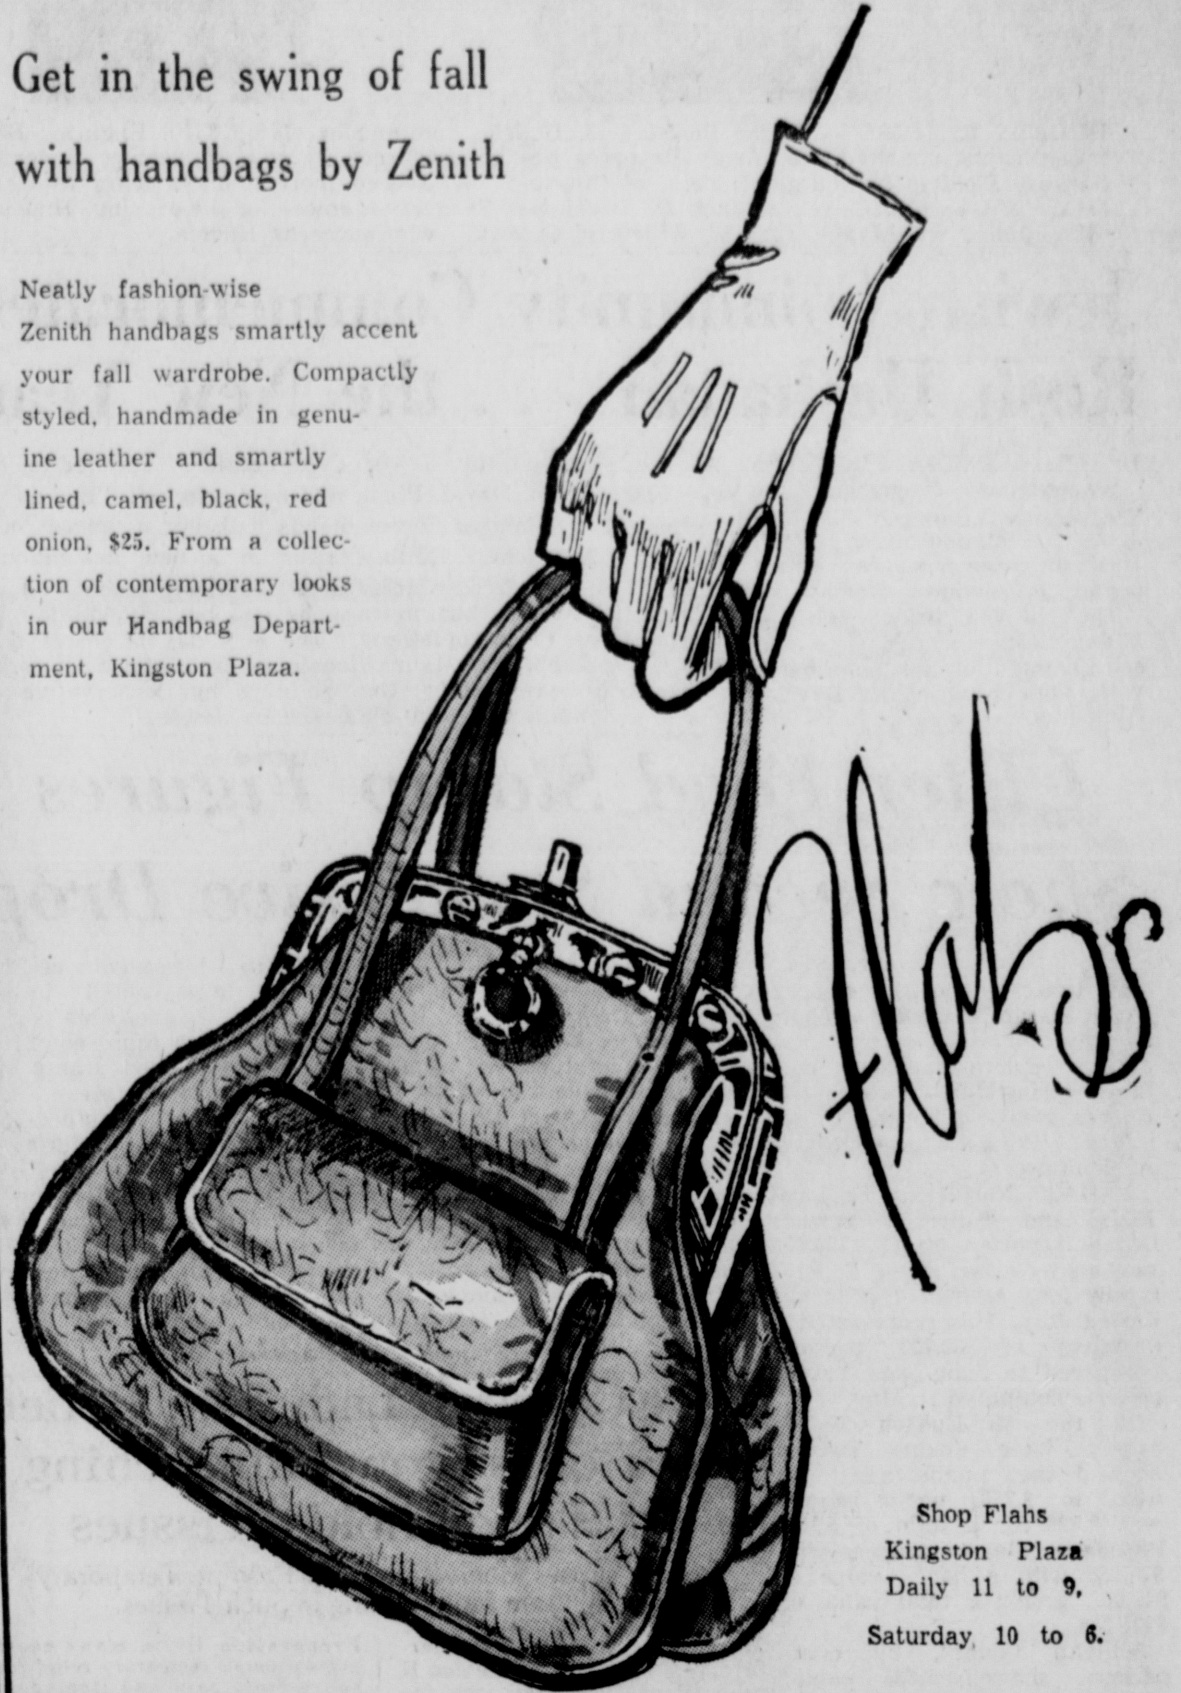

To keep alive legislation extending the draft, Nixon gave in on postponing a $2.4 billion pay raise for the military. Its effective date is Oct. 3, right in the middle of the 90-day price-wage freeze.

The prospect of a big military pay increase is sure to have a strong effect on congressional consideration of Nixon's plan to postpone for six months scheduled raises for the government's civilian employees.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, on a largely party-line vote, has already approved a veto resolution, on which the House may vote in two weeks.

Scarcelli Attorney Takes Exception

SAUGERTIES regarding disposition of the not intend to block it and that move its equipment as Wein- Brinnier stated that some brush and roots of trees have lodged in the water but although admittedly unsightly, did not block the creek. He cited the recent torrential rains during the past month recalling that the waterway remained unblocked throughout.

Counsel for A.J. Scarcelli case. The argument concerning whether Scarcelli was "dumping" or not apparently narrows down to semantics with Brinnier contending that "dumping" connotes "garbage" or the like. Weinberg however specifically specified "soil, stones, trees and other materials."

Construction of Saugerties Saugerties Attorney William Brinnier told the Freeman that Scarcelli Construction "did not agree to stop dumping and was not dumping." He said that the company has agreed to restore the creek as much as possible to its original condition but is not going to block Mud Creek, does not intend to block it and that in the event it should become blocked and it is affirmed by a state engineer, "then and only then can an injunction be issued without notice."

Brinnier said the firm has agreed to restore the creek as much as possible to its original condition but is not going to block Mud Creek, does not intend to block it and that in the event it should become blocked and it is affirmed by a state engineer, "then and only then can an injunction be issued without notice."

Brinnier stated that some brush and roots of trees have lodged in the water but although admittedly unsightly, did not block the creek. He cited the recent torrential rains during the past month recalling that the waterway remained unblocked throughout.

According to Weinberg, this week, a consent junction was issued by Justice George L. Cobb which requires Scarcelli to remove all the refuse from the brook and restore it as nearly as possible to its original condition within 45 days. In the event of a violation the state engineer would inspect the area and a formal court injunction would follow.

Senior Bus Starts Wednesday

KINGSTON Downs St. 10:38; Albany Ave. and Tremper Ave. 10:40.

The Kingston Rotary Senior Citizen Shopping Bus, at no charge for Senior Citizens, will start operation Wednesday, Sept. 22, according to an announcement by Jacob Nolfo, president of Kingston Rotary. Nolfo said the Kingston Rotary Club thanks Arthur Mulligan for his cooperation in furnishing the buses for this needy program.

Bus stops and time to pick up is as follows:

Bus No. 1 — Downtown

Corner of Andrew St. and Mary's Ave. - 10 a. m.; West Chester St. and Montrose Ave. - 10:02; McEntee St. and West Pierpont St. - 10:04; Hone St. and German St. - 10:05; Abeel St. and Hone St. - 10:07; Abruy St. and Delaware Ave. - 10:15; Moore St. and Second Ave. - 10:18; Kingston St. and First Ave. - 10:20; Lincoln St. and Hooker St. - 10:25; Lincoln St. and Clifton Ave. - 10:28; Clifton Ave. and Stephan St. - 10:30; Stephan St. and Farrelly St. - 10:32; Stephan St. and Foxhall Ave. - 10:35; Manor Ave. and they were picked up.

Bus No. 2 — Uptown

Corner of West O'Reilly St. and Mary's Ave. 10 a. m.; Mary's Ave. and Pine Grove Ave. 10:02; Grand St. and Smith Ave. 10:05; Smith Ave. and Cornell St. 10:08; Cedar St. and Sterling St. 10:10; Henry St. and Fair St. 10:13; Wall St. and Linderman Ave. 10:15; Washington Ave. and Warren St. 10:17; Washington Ave. and Pearl St. 10:20; Emerson St. and Main St. 10:22; Emerson St. and Lucas Ave. 10:25; Lucas Ave. and Washington Ave. 10:27.

In order to maintain the schedule, Senior Citizens are requested to be at the designated bus stops on time. The bus cannot wait for any passengers.

All Senior Citizens are asked to remember their bus number and must be ready to board buses at 1 p. m. sharp for the return trip and will be discharged at the same corners.

This major breakthrough in helping Senior Citizens solve part of their transportation problem is being sponsored by Kingston Rotary Club in cooperation with the Senior Citizens Advisory Council.

Alexander Yosman, coordinator of the Senior Citizens Advisory Council, said that it is hoped that this service would put into effect with a minimum amount of problems.

Jewish Community Commemorates Rosh Hashanah . . . the New Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Synagogues throughout the world, were filled today with Jews commemorating Rosh Hashanah, the new year, which began at sundown Sunday.

The new year brings with it a 10-day period of penitence and self-examination that culminates with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

At the start of the Jewish Year 5732, Rabbi David Plish, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, urged: "Let us not only pray for a better world, but more important, vow to do something about it."

Rabbi Dr. Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, sounded a similar note, saying: "Let us join hands with our neighbors of all faiths in a new dedication to God's kingdom to be built, not with vows but with deeds."

The holy day is observed for one day by Reform Jews, for two days by Conservative and Orthodox Jews.

Ulster Food Stamp Figures Show Second Successive Drop

KINGSTON Dutchess County, with payments. A net gain of 22,562 Participation in the Federal Food Stamp Program dropped sharply for the second successive month in New York State during July, according to figures released by the United States Department of Agriculture.

USDA's Northeast Regional Food and Nutrition Service Office reported that 1,190,676 persons took part in the Federal family food assistance program during July. This represented a decrease of 82,723 persons compared to June, and 150,973 persons compared to May.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 20, 1971

Spending the Wealth

Consumer spending accounts for about 65 per cent of the gross national product. With the GNP running at $1,040 billion, the American consumer spends $676 billion a year, at a rate of $3,300 for very man, woman and child in the country. What an open handed people we are!

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, in one of its periodic series of seminars to increase understanding on major economic issues, asked what seemed to be a simple question: Does spending increase with a rise in wealth?

Or, to put it in more technical terms, does consumer spending respond in a predictable enough way to change in monetary policy, or can the links through which that policy reaches the consumer be measured enough to be useful in setting policy?

A computer model that attempts to trace the linkages between spending and wealth has been built by Franco Modigliani, Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor of economics. One of his conclusions is that for every $1 increase in personal wealth, consumer expenditure goes up 6 per cent.

In a study of families, James Tobin and Walter Dolde of Yale discussed a life-cycle theory of consumption. A theoretical family makes decisions about its earnings prospects and how much it hopes to save over a period of years. It often sticks to a frugal schedule despite raises. The Tobin-Dolde model has 134 categories of families, separated by age group, and type earnings envisaged—essentially poor and moderately rich.

James Duesenberry, former member of the Council of Economic Advisors, felt that a more meaningful division might be between the top 1 per cent of the rich and the rest of us. The very rich, who hold an overwhelming portion of wealth in this country, have a different set of problems, with their investments, excessive taxes, and the handling of their estates. On the other hand, 95 per cent of the population are low-wealth holders, who experience little increase in tangible wealth other than a rise in the value of their homes.

It is fair to deduce from the discussion that changing values do not always directly lead to changed spending, except for the spendthrifts, who don't look beyond their noses.

The Good Life

From all sides come reports of an inner revolution, of people asking themselves what constitutes the good life. The children of the permissive society, and their parents, are on the way back from their strange binge and are wondering now what it's all about.

This is probably the healthiest evidence of maturity we have as a nation on the eve of our 200th birthday.

For a decade or more we lost faith in our leaders, our institutions, our society. We are beginning to turn to the inner values that have made this nation. We are discovering that integrity still is the solid frame on which to build, that the country is not going to the dogs, that this country of ours that has risen to leadership of the world still has the elements of greatness, that it's up to us now to carry on the great American dream that is at once the pattern and the envy of the world.

As one much-traveled reporter found, Americans today are more sophisticated, better informed, less intolerant, not talking in such fearful terms of race or communism, but seeing what we can do about these problems. They have fewer illusions about themselves and their country, they are ready to move on with the work of creating a better, more equitable society. We can, 99.5 per cent of us, have a role in this new creation.

David Lawrence Says
Repeal of Auto Excise Tax
Would Stimulate Economy

WASHINGTON — The motor vehicle industry is urging Congress to repeal the seven per cent Excise Tax on automobiles and thereby give the economy its biggest stimulus. Leaders in the industry say that a drop in vehicle sales generally is the first indication of economic decline while renewed sales volume usually is a sign that a recovery period is beginning.

Arthur E. Summerfield, who was Postmaster General in the Eisenhower Administration and who has been an automobile and truck dealer in Flint, Mich., for 42 years, testified this week before the House Ways and Means Committee on the importance of removing the Excise Tax. His son, who is a motor vehicle dealer in Gary, Ind., joined in his testimony. The statement read in part as follows:

"More than 13 million persons — holding one of every six jobs in the nation — are employed in highway transport industries. Over 800,000 businesses are directly dependent on motor vehicle use for their continued existence....

"On July 7 unsold new 1971 automobiles in dealers' hands reached a record high of more than 1,800,000 cars in a declining market. Many dealers, already stretched financially, certainly were in no position to order and arrange payment for additional new cars....

"The impact and problems of our present situation are beyond the control of the business community alone. During the past year, sales of cars from abroad rose to 14 per cent of total U.S. sales and are now running about 16 per cent. On the basis of a 10-million car year, this means 1,600,000 vehicles.

"This percentage shows definite signs of increasing at an even faster rate, and without help from you the aggressive distribution plans of foreign car manufacturers could well cause them to actually dominate the American car market. Import sales are running 40 per cent on the West Coast, and 20 per cent on the East Coast — and both German and Japanese companies are now greatly expanding their distribution in the greatest car market in the country — the great Middle West.

"As dealers of domestic cars and trucks, we must compete against vehicles built in Japan where labor wage scales are about one-quarter of ours. We must also compete with vehicles built in West Germany where wages approximate half of ours. This, of course, results in unequal competition and is reflected in the automotive employment trend in each of the three countries."

Mr. Summerfield pointed out that direct employment in this country in the manufacture of motor vehicles declined by 91,000 jobs last year. But in West Germany, jobs in the motor vehicle industry climbed from 560,000 in 1969 to 731,000 this year. Similarly, Japanese employment in transportation manufacturing rose from 514,000 in 1960 to 754,000 in 1969.

Mr. Summerfield's statement declared that repeal of the automobile excise tax would mean that an average of 200 dollars would be rebated "to the car buyer, not to the dealer, and not to the manufacturer, and it would not be inflationary." In summing up, Mr. Summerfield said:

"We strongly feel that repeal of these automotive excess taxes in total would have the greatest all-around benefits of any single action to stimulate our economy."

Franklin M. Kreml, President of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, in testifying before the committee, stated that auto price reductions would range from about 125 dollars for small cars to over 300 dollars for the largest cars. Many of the major manufacturers have written to members of Congress committing their companies to pass the tax saving on to the buyer.

Officials of the automobile industry told the House Ways and Means Committee that even the cost of used cars would be reduced by the repeal of the seven per cent tax, inasmuch as older-car prices are competitive with those of new cars.

Attention was drawn to the fact that in 1965 President Johnson had ordered a study after the tax on automobiles was cut from 10 per cent to seven per cent, and it showed that the reduction was passed on to the purchaser. The Bureau of Labor Statistics at the time revealed a similar drop in used-car prices.

In the view of industry spokesman, the net result of removal of the tax would be to help create and maintain new jobs through increased production of motor vehicles and also would make additional non-inflationary funds available for consumer use.

WARM SPRINGS — A SENTIMENTAL
REMEMBRANCE

Warm Springs is a small community hugging the side of Pine Mountain on the western edge of the state of Georgia. It is in full leaf with fluffy maples and soldier pines ramrod straight. Twenty-six years and five months ago Franklin D. Roosevelt died there, the only way in which he could free himself of the 12 pounds of iron he wore on his legs.

His old Pontiac, deep blue, stands in the little garage. The hand-lever which he used to depress the clutch is visible, so is the stick shift and the big emergency brake. Over the garage, two small rooms under pine eaves heat up under the midday sun. The beds are made up with old-fashioned tufted spreads; huge white wash basins decorate little tables.

The morning he died he was sitting in bed in the "Little White House" reading the "Atlanta Constitution" and he could hear the housekeeper, Lizzie McDuffie, a black woman, talking loudly in the kitchen with a Filipino mess-boy.

"Lizzie!" he called. "Lizzie!" The 200-pound, five-foot woman wiped her hands on her apron and hurried into the bedroom. "Yes, Mr. President," she said. He looked up from three pillows through the rimless pince-nez he wore, and tilted his cigarette holder upward.

"What are you people talking about out there?" he said. "We was talkin' about reincarnation," she said timidly. "Do you believe in that stuff?" "I don't believe in anything," Roosevelt said. "There's a possibility that there is such a thing as reincarnation. Why?"

"Well," Lizzie said, "I was tellin' him that if it's true, I want to come back as a canary." The President of the United States dropped his newspaper, took a second look at his stout housekeeper, clapped his hands and threw his head up to laugh. "Don't you love it!" he roared. "Don't you love it!"

Roosevelt had an inner faith that, no matter how worn and tired he felt, a visit to Warm Springs would revive him and restore his spirit. Because he believed, it was so. That is, until this day of April 12, 1945.

The "Little White House" is still neat. His bed is small and thin. The plain hardwood furniture was manufactured at Mrs. Roosevelt's workshop at Val-Kill. The chair in which he sat as he posed for a watercolor by Madame Shoumatoff is exactly as it was, with a soft leather seat and arm rests.

At 1:15 p.m. he pressed his broad hand to his temple and said, "I have a terrific headache," and slumped to his left side. The high sun was streaming across the rear patio and onto the gray planes of his cheeks. It was lights out, farewell, adieu.

Pine Mountain is still alive with the big trees. Squirrels freeze on the trunks. Shafts of sunlight point buttery fingers at the carpet of pine needles and cones. An armless wheelchair stands in a corner of the entrance hall near a rack of walking canes.

The hardwood floors gleam. Mrs. Roosevelt's room is furnished as it was, so long ago. The sentry boxes for the Secret Service and the U.S. Marines are still there. Behind the elliptical patio, the forest falls away to a dell of vines, which spend all their time climbing the sturdy trees to get their share of sunlight.

A mile and a half further down is the old swimming pool where the President enjoyed playing water polo with crippled children, stealing the ball from their outstretched hands whenever he could. Today, it is almost empty. Children do not contract poliomyelitis anymore. A few old people edge their skinny legs into the water.

Here he could dream and here he did dream. Few men found the Presidency more exciting. He enjoyed being in the seat of power and he fought a long dismal economic depression and a great war. Toward the end, he must have known that his life was slipping away because he was weak and had difficulty remembering topics of conversation.

All he asked of God was the grace to live to see the collapse of Nazi Germany and the first meeting of the United Nations in San Francisco. Both of them were about five weeks ahead on that sunny April morning, when he laughed so hard at Lizzie McDuffie.

Just five weeks more of life. Had he been granted this, Franklin Roosevelt would have succeeded where Woodrow Wilson failed. He would have won a long war and inaugurated a community of nations designed to keep the peace.

In life, he had been granted almost everything he asked. Eisenhower was in mid-Germany; B-29s plastered Tokyo with fire bombs. The first atom bomb was ready for a test. Then, somewhere far off, someone said: "Come unto Me." And he did. .

Jack Anderson Says

Former Agent Says CIA Gives
President Secret War Powers

WASHINGTON — A former insider has charged that the Central Intelligence Agency has provided the President with the military wherewithal to wage his own private wars around the world and is geared to fight still new clandestine wars.

In a confidential memo to Rep. Herman Badillo, D-N.Y., ex-CIA official Victor Marchetti makes these allegations:

The White House has used "vague phraseology" in the law to build up a vast military arsenal and paramilitary force. Past presidents have ordered the CIA to wage secret wars in Asia, Africa and Latin America without the traditional constitutional safeguards and congressional oversight.

The CIA "has bought and sold air transport companies all over the world" from the Congo to Nepal, so the President could mount paramilitary operations almost anywhere. Marchetti claims one such company, Air America, "has grown so large, owning more aircraft than most major U.S. airlines, that it was a source of embarrassment within the agency. A senior officer had to be assigned the full-time job of keeping an eye on George Dole (the founder) in the hope of cooling his fantastic business success in the Far East."

Southern Air Transport, a Miami-based firm, is also fingered by Marchetti as a CIA subsidiary. "The sole purpose for the existence of SAT," he asserts, "is that the CIA be ready for the contingency that some day it will have to ferry men and material to some Latin American country to wage a clandestine war."

Marchetti also identifies Rocky Mountain Air of Phoenix as "one of the more colorful companies owned by the CIA. This outfit specializes," he says, "in training and airlifting parachutists, ostensibly for fire fighting purposes." But he then points out that the CIA has no need of fire fighting capability "unless it is to put out military brush fires south of the border."

The CIA's "air capabilities, its warehouses full of unmarked military supplies in the Midwest, a secret demolition training base in North Carolina, even a secret airbase in Nevada, and its

Fire Fighters?

Marchetti also identifies Rocky Mountain Air of Phoenix as "one of the more colorful companies owned by the CIA. This outfit specializes," he says, "in training and airlifting parachutists, ostensibly for fire fighting purposes." But he then points out that the CIA has no need of fire fighting capability "unless it is to put out military brush fires south of the border."

The CIA's "air capabilities, its warehouses full of unmarked military supplies in the Midwest, a secret demolition training base in North Carolina, even a secret airbase in Nevada, and its connections with international arms dealing firms," Marchetti charges, give the President a formidable, secret war making capability.

A CIA spokesman acknowledged that Marchetti formerly held a position of trust at CIA headquarters. He resigned several months ago to write a novel, "The Rope Dancer," based on his CIA experiences. But he abandoned fiction recently to write a detailed background memo for Congressman Badillo, who has introduced legislation to restrict the CIA to intelligence gathering and to prohibit clandestine wars.

The Marchetti memo cites the CIA's operations in Laos as the most notorious example of clandestine warfare. Years before the public had any inkling of it, the CIA was running a large-scale war.

Declares Marchetti: "Airports and huge supply bases were secretly established up-country, close to the action. Arms and material were delivered by the boatload from the CIA's warehouses in the Far East and the U.S."

"Guerrilla chieftains were recruited to lead the Meos, who would actually fight the war for the CIA. The government of Laos was placated and finessed into turning things over to the CIA operators who would conduct the conflict."

Swashbuckling Agents

"The chief of station — the CIA's top post in the field — during the crucial mid-60s, was... His previous assignment has been Berlin, where he announced to the CIA contingent there upon his arrival that he intended 'to tear down that blankety-blank wall.' He was transferred to Laos before he had the opportunity to carry out his threat, in part because of his ferociousness."

"He has been succeeded by... former chief of station in the Belgian Congo. When things grew quiet there, he once dropped everything for a clandestine foray into the French Congo in hope of tracking down Che Guevara."

"He failed. But his fellow operators a couple of years later eventually caught up with the revolutionary in Bolivia."

"These are the kind of men who have led the CIA in Laos, and the CIA has led the U.S. into another humiliating, inextricable international dilemma."

Footnote: At the CIA's request, we have omitted from the Marchetti memo the names of CIA operatives whose lives could be endangered. Otherwise, the CIA declined to comment on Marchetti's charges. Paul C. Velte Jr., who has just succeeded George Dole as president of Air America, denied that the airline is controlled by the CIA. Stanley Williams, president of Southern Air Transport, also denied that his airline was affiliated with the CIA. We were unable to locate an office in Phoenix for Rocky Mountain Air.

Odds and Ends

The Republicans are passing out bumper stickers showing Sen. Ed Muskie, D-Me., breathing fire and beating on a desk. "Will Muskie Pique too Soon?" asks the legend. The sticker has no imprint stating its origin, as campaign literature is required to display. But we tracked it down to the Republican National Committee. Explained spokesman Lyn Nofziger coyly: "We didn't think Muskie was a candidate," since he hasn't announced.

Assistant Defense Secretary Barry Shilito has started a one-man campaign to combat Washington's telephone paranoia. While many of his government colleagues secretly switch on recording devices or silently signal to their secretaries to listen in on conversations, Shilito engagingly asks his callers for permission to "put my secretary on the line so I'll know what we said."

"With Minh and Ky the rival candidates, would the 'democratic' election you want to see held here be any less a charade than the one-man affair now slated for Oct. 3?"

The point, if made, would damage Thieu's critics. For no election the Vietnamese will hold this year or perhaps within the next decade is likely to be more than a charade. Says seasoned observer Pike:

"Few Vietnamese strongly favor Western-style democracy, and if anything the number grows steadily smaller with the passing of each year... Both knowledge and appreciation of democracy are largely absent."

October 3 might have provided a nice show with a two-or-three-man race. But it would not have been more than that.

Clearly, he regarded the price of approval as too high. And, given his traditional view of Vietnamese politics, his question for America and the world might be:

What's this?

First the British Broadcasting Corporation bans Sesame Street as "too authoritarian." Then a homegrown psychiatrist slams the highly acclaimed series for children as "too stimulating."

Were we all led astray by the almost universal praise lavished on Sesame Street when it first appeared? Or is it merely a case of a few belated sour grapes?

In the first instance, British supporters of "Street" do indeed suggest that the BBC is jealous.

"Obviously, it's hard for them to conceive that anyone can do anything better than the BBC," says reading researcher Sir James Pitman.

However, Monica Sims, head of BBC's children's programming, says she is "particularly worried about the program's authoritarian aims. Right answers are demanded and praised...."

As for the psychiatrist, Dr. Natalie Sabiness, her criticism is that program elements come at children "at such a rapid rate that they have hardly time to absorb it, let alone think what it is.

"There is a kind of keyed-up quality that these children will develop from watching this program over and over," she told a U.S. Senate subcommittee. "They will have no tolerance of an empty second anywhere."

Kids will learn, she says, if we will just leave them alone and make reading or other things interesting and show that we like to do it ourselves.

It is the problem at least as old as Socrates: How on the one hand do you import great quantities of dry knowledge to kids without making schools into "grim and joyless" places, as some critics claim they are today, and how on the other hand do you make learning an exciting adventure without succumbing to the superficial and the flashy?

In 2,000 years no one has come up with an answer acceptable to everyone, including the kids themselves. Thus we shall probably still be experimenting with teaching gimmicks and arguing about their effectiveness 2,000 years from now.

Freeman Readers Write Letters to Editor

Stricter Gun Laws

Sept. 15, 1971
Editor, The Freeman:
Your insane editorial and the simplistic letter of Mr. Donnan regarding gun control require refutation. Guns are not designed to kill, but to shoot. The target is chosen by the user. If criminal users were kept in jail, they certainly couldn't continue to escalate their offenses against society.

The statistics quoted are extremely dubious and misleading. Included in the grossly inflated figure are such statistics as criminals shot by law officers during commission of crimes, suicides, etc.

Sweden and Switzerland are but two examples of "un-banned," technological, and affluent societies that trust their citizens with firearms of all kinds, including sub-machine guns. Their crime rates and gun-related fatalities are minuscule by comparison with ours. So much for easy availability. Even Russia, the classic repressive society has less onerous gun laws than New York City. Their criminal justice system is more forceful.

The second amendment most certainly does give the individual citizen the right to bear arms. My dictionary defines Militia as: "The armed citizenry, as distinct from the regular army."

Of course one remembers Hungary and Czechoslovakia. They had very effective gun laws. Only politically "reliable" and people were allowed to own weapons.

When the courts and constabulary stop policing morals and turn their attention to real crime, then the crime rate will descend.

Incidentally, figures show that more people are killed and injured annually by automobiles and falls in bath tubs than by guns. Would you outlaw them in the name of suffering humanity? The only legislation needed is for a nationwide firearms familiarization and safety training public school course, similar to the drivers education program. This would ameliorate the firearms accident rate, which is in direct proportion to ignorant handling of guns.

Did you know that, if they arrested killers of policemen, 71 per cent had previous arrest records and more than 55 per cent had been convicted, mainly of violent crimes? Also almost 20 per cent of policemen murdered with guns were killed with their own service revolvers, which had been snatched from them by their attackers. These figures are from the statistics of the FBI.

Only the incredibly ignorant would claim that "Stricter gun control" would have prevented these police killings.

Putting aside the naive musings of pseudo intellectual reformers and the Neanderthal ranting of the lunatic fringe right, does anyone seriously question the private citizens inherent right to defend and protect his life, family or property?

In the event that Mr. Donnan ever has to face a menacing midnight intruder, I hope he artfully defends himself with a copy of Ramsey Clark's effusions or a tightly rolled copy of the New York Times.

Sincerely,
KENNETH WEINSTEIN

Need Action Now
Editor, The Freeman:
We in Ulster County start with many advantages over our problem cities.

Certain areas have a well developed sense of order and community that is probably related to our geographical position and our common experience. However, we need help now.

The efforts of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department must be supported but not with super-rhetoric or electronically amplified voices of those who trade votes for things they can't reasonably hope to achieve. Resolutions are not enough.

Crime is on the increase in the county and places everyone in danger of becoming casualties on the crime wave sweeping the county and nation.

It is time that we stopped pursuing the mirage of security through the bottomless swamp of press releases.

Very truly yours,
RANK R. SPADA
Kerhonkson, N. Y.

Sept. 7, 1971
Editor, The Freeman:
This correspondence is in regard to the editorial in The Freeman, dated August 31, entitled, "The Gun Slaughter." I must take issue with you over the matter.

My opinion is that regardless of any gun control law in effect or in the making, anyone with the intent of committing a felony or crime with a gun will obtain a weapon somehow. What is definitely needed then are stricter laws with tougher sentences given to persons who commit crimes with guns. Most criminals know that the punishment is comparatively light, so that is not much of a deterrent.

If the people who are advertising "Tougher Gun Control" laws would start yelling "tougher sentences for offenders," perhaps the situation would improve and the crime rate that was up 11 per cent in 1970 would decline in 1972.

Very truly yours,
RANK R. SPADA
Kerhonkson, N. Y.

Increased patrol activity is now needed and the Legislature must provide the necessary funding.

Anything less will not be enough. The very extent of local crime demands local action now.

Illegal Guns

Editor, The Freeman:

Regarding the gun control controversy, there is one question that is completely ignored, or at least never answered, by the so called "anti-gun" proponents. How can we be assured guns will be kept out of the possession of criminals or, for that matter, anyone with the desire to have a gun? Considering the overwhelming failure to control the illegal importation of drugs, how will the illegal importation of guns be controlled? We live in a rural area and yet, drugs are readily available. Will someone give me proof positive it wouldn't be the same situations with guns? There are numerous stills in this country. If illegal alcohol can't be completely eradicated by the authorities, how could the illegal manufacture of guns be controlled? These are only two of the means by which illegal guns might be obtained.

As an owner of a legal, registered gun, I must know that the time can not come when I will be deprived of my gun and the criminal is not. This, I believe, is the prime reason for the "pro-gun" resistance to controls.

For the moment, put aside all pros and cons, statistics, the Constitution and lengthy dissertations. Other than generalities, such as Federal controls, can anyone give me the assurance that there will be no illegal guns?

Sincerely,
PHYLLIS M. WALLACE

Kennedy Retakes Lead as Top Choice of Democrats for 1972

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N. J. — Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts is in first place in the latest Gallup survey as the top choice of Democratic voters for the 1972 nomination. Kennedy and Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine were tied in a July survey with Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota four points behind.

Kennedy is currently the choice of 26 per cent of Democrats to 22 per cent for Muskie and 13 per cent for Humphrey.

Kennedy thus has regained a tenuous lead over Muskie and has a clear lead over Humphrey. A late April survey showed him with an eight-point spread over Muskie.

Lindsay Up Since Switch

Lindsay's switch from the Republican to the Democratic party last month appears to have paid some percentage of the vote from 10 per cent in the mid-July survey to 6 per cent in the latest survey conducted late August.

Speaker Lauds Sen. McGovern In Woodstock

WOODSTOCK — An overflow crowd, including members of the Woodstock Citizens for Senator George McGovern, recently attended a lawn meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zaidenberg to hear Miss Marion Perlman, a former resident of Woodstock and now a member of the Senator's Washington staff, speak on the Senator's qualifications for the Office of President.

Senator McGovern, a Democrat, is the only announced Presidential candidate for the 1972 election.

New Cantor Engaged by Ahavath Israel

KINGSTON — Congregation Ahavath Israel, 100 Lucas Avenue, has engaged Cantor Michael Perlstein as the Cantor of the congregation.

His duties are to chant the liturgical prayers and conduct all musical selections at the Sabbath and Holy Day Services. He is also the Torah Reader.

Cantor Perlstein comes to Ahavath Israel with a background of many years of cantorial experience and musical education. He is a son of a well-known cantor, and has held cantorial positions in Shreveport, La., Woodbridge, N.J., Elizabeth, N.J. and in other synagogues.

Since he has arrived in Kingston, he has been very highly esteemed by the worshippers at the services, for his fine tenor voice and cantorial ability.

Four Heifers Are Exported From Ulster

STONE RIDGE — Four purebred Holstein heifers are being sold and exported from Ulster County to a foreign country.

Rokel Farms in Stone Ridge, owned and operated by S. Robert Kelder Sr.,

Kelder Jr., are unique in having sold 13 animals abroad in the last two years. Last year they shipped nine to Korea and now they are shipping four which they have sold to Mario Gaspari, Caine Garden Farms, Christianstedt, St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

Dams average over 304 days mature equivalent records 20,706 pounds of milk and 688 pounds of butter fat. Classification average is 82 pints.

Sen. George McGovern's progress in these nationwide "open primary" tests has been slow but his present 6 per cent puts him in a tie with Lindsay for fourth place in the standings and represents his highest mark to date.

Details of Survey

In this survey, which simulates a nationwide primary, Gallup viewers showed persons interviewed a card listing 13 men who have figured prominently in the speculation over the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. Each person interviewed was asked the following question:

Which one of the men on this list would you like to see nominated as the Democratic candidate for President in 1972?

Interviewing was conducted August 20-23 with 1523 citizens 18 and older in more than 300 scientifically selected communities across the nation.

Here are the top nomination choices of the 656 persons in the survey who classified themselves as Democrats:

Choices of Democrats — Nationwide —
Edward Kennedy	26%
Edmund Muskie	22%
Hubert Humphrey	13%
John Lindsay	6%
Eugene McCarthy	4%
Others, no pref.	23%

100% Kennedy Leads in All Regions
Kennedy holds leads over

Humphrey and Muskie in each of the four major regions of the nation.

Senator Kennedy far outstrips the field of Democratic hopefuls in California, as reported September 8 by The California Poll, defeating his nearest rival, Muskie, by 18 percentage points.

Based on early August interviewing, Kennedy is the choice of 37 per cent of California Democrats for the nomination, compared to 19 per cent for Muskie and 13 per cent for Humphrey, the man with the third highest vote.

Kennedy Not Popular With Party 'Pros'

Despite Kennedy's popularity with the rank and file of his party, he fails to win favor with the nation's Democratic county chairmen. In an exclusive Gallup survey of this key group of party "pros," Kennedy was found to run a weak third for the Democratic nomination, slightly behind Humphrey and trailing far behind Muskie.

The views of these county chairmen traditionally dominate the party convention and could therefore play an important role in any future Kennedy presidential bid.

Although Kennedy has disavowed any intention of being an active candidate for the Presidency in 1972, some Kennedy backers are said to be counting on a "draft Kennedy" movement at the convention.

The Republican slate will be Francis V. Garrison, for supervisor; Clarence Decker, highway superintendent; Fred E. Earl, town justice; and Philip Wenz, assessor.

These are the same people nominated at the disputed Aug. 17 caucus. The caucus had been declared void by John W. Scott, GOP vice chairman, after protests by several voters that the ballots were unclear and confusing.

The voting machines were temporarily impounded by the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

Earl, Wenz, and Garrison had sought an order from Supreme Court Judge John H. Pennock forcing Scott and GOP secretary Harold P. Ross to recognize them as candidates, but it was denied Sept. 10.

The voting results were: supervisor—Garrison, 342, M. J. Oscar Smith, 296; superintendent of highways—Decker, 438, Vincent Edmonds, 220; town justice—first ballot, Earl, 331, Joseph Wickes, 219, Ed Schlott, 116, second ballot, Earl 165, Wickes, 111; and assessor—Wenz, 319, Fred Grau, 302.

Ulster Lions To Sell Bulbs

ULSTER The Town of Ulster Lions Club will conduct an all-out drive from Sept. 20 to Sept. 27 to sell electric light bulbs to residents, according to an announcement made today by Club Project Chairman Al Bagatta. Every cent of the proceeds will go to boys and girls for education.

The light bulbs will be sold in handy Project-Paks, each containing 4-100W, 2-75W and 2-60W at the regular price.

The entire membership of the Lions Club has been organized to supply friends and neighbors with light bulbs delivered right to their door. Lions Clubs in other cities have had excellent results with their light bulb sales, and Bagatta has expressed his confidence in the anticipated success of this fund-raising campaign.

County Vols Meet Tuesday

KINGSTON The September meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Tuesday, Sept. 21, 8 p.m., in the Centerville Firehouse on Route 212.

The Vols will be the guests of the Centerville and Cedar Grove Fire Departments.

Reports on the activities of the various fire companies in the county, planned for Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9, will be given by Ernest Dunn, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee.

A lot of little litterers

A lot of us contribute to the pollution problem. Like littering. Most Americans won't admit it but most of them are litterers.

Maybe not big litterers, but at least little litterers. There are people who toss cigar or cigarette butts on the street. Others who throw candy wrappers or used tissue out of car windows. A lot who leave their garbage behind them after a picnic or trip to the beach. Some who clutter the highways with empty cans and bottles. And maybe even a few who dump the trash from their homes on empty lots or roadsides.

All of them are litterers; all of them are polluters. If each of them would stop his own little bit of littering it would help stop pollution.

People start pollution. People can stop it.

Food Stamps For Phone Men Up to County

KINGSTON
Striking telephone workers in Ulster County may apply for food stamps at the Ulster County Welfare Department and will receive them if they are eligible, it was reported today.

State Welfare Commissioner
George K. Wyman, who was asked to determine whether the striking telephone workers are entitled to receive public assistance and food stamps, has turned the decision-making back to Ulster County.

Recently, a State Supreme Court ruling in Syracuse stated that "local agencies may refuse to grant welfare payments to an estimated 40,000 telephone workers in the State."

Eligibility will be determined by the applicants income.

Man Charged With Assault, Second Degree

KINGSTON
A 28-year-old man was taken into custody Saturday night on a charge of second degree assault in connection with an incident that occurred at 5 Wurts Street.

Marvin L. Edwards of Ulster
Park, was accused of cutting Nettie Owens of this city, during an argument at the downtown address. The woman reportedly sustained cuts of the left shoulder and forehead. Edwards was scheduled to appear in City Court.

Police are continuing the investigation.

Congressman's Office Closed For Holy Day

KINGSTON
The Kingston office of Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. will be closed all day Tuesday in observance for the Jewish High Holy Days.

The city office is located at 292 1/2 Fair Street. The Congressman's district offices in Hudson and Delhi will also be closed Tuesday.

TOWN OF ESOPUS
Efforts to locate a dog that bit 5-year-old Michael Perpetua of First Street Connelly, a few days ago, continued today in this area.

According to reports, the dog described as part German shepherd and collie, bit the boy on the left forearm and back. The boy was treated by a local physician.

Town constables, aided by deputy sheriffs, made a house-to-house canvass of this town—
especially in the Connelly area, seeking the dog. Authorities are anxious to determine whether the dog might be ill. Anyone having any information about the animal is asked to notify Town Supervisor George Freer, town constables or the sheriff's office.

Hodor-Cinclini Nuptials Told

Miss Beth Hodor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hodor of Hamburg Road, Catskill, became the bride of Dennis D. Cinclini of Lake Katrine and Merrick, L.I., on Saturday, Aug. 28 in First Reformed Church in Catskill. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alma Cinclini of Lake Katrine.

The Rev. John J. VanHeest of Catskill performed the ceremony at the all-white wedding. Bouquets of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white peau de sole gown designed for the bride by the bridegroom's mother, a custom dressmaker formerly with Mainbocher of New York. The bodice had a deep round neckline and the high empire waist was encircled with beaded embroidered edging. The sleeves were flared at the wrists with corresponding embroidered edging. The gown featured a slight train and a flowing detachable train which fastened at the shoulders and extended almost five yards. The bride's illusion veil was attached to a Camelot cap. She carried a large bouquet of lilies.

Mrs. Cyrus Tibbals of Jefferson Heights was matron of honor in white chiffon over taffeta, designed with a high waistline and full skirt. The sheer sleeves terminated at the wrists with rows of smocking. Embroidered details on the gown were in shades of orange, green and blue.

Attendants were Mrs. Wayne Rackowski of Colonie; Miss Judith Warrington of Catskill; and Miss Lois DelGreco of New York, cousin of the bridegroom. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Marie Ann Palmich of Woodside and Miss Jill Ursprung of Catskill, cousin of the bride. Their gowns were identical in styling to that worn by the honor attendant. All the attendants wore headpieces of floor length white net, draped from tailored bows. They carried basque bouquets of miniature carnations.

Joseph DelGreco of New York was best man for his cousin. Ushers were Cyrus Tibbals of Catskill; John O'Reilly of Athens; and Michael Schiano of New York. Mrs. Cinclini is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. Clifford Smith of Catskill. Her husband is the grandson of Mrs. Filomena DelGreco of Cairo and New York.

A reception was held at Sawyerkill Country Club, Saugerties.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Maine and will be at home after September 20 at 1777 Meadowbrook Drive, Merrick, L.I.

The bride, a graduate of Catskill High School, class of 1965, studied art at Frank Reilly school of Art, the Art Students League of New York, and the National Academy of Fine Art and Design of New York. The bride had been a graphic artist with the New York Telephone Company in Albany.

The bridegroom, a graduate of St. Patrick's High School, attended Ulster County Community College and Dutchess Community College. He holds a degree in business administration from Nassau Community College and is district sales manager for Amara Refrigeration of New York at Westbury, L.I.

Marriage Vows Are Taken

Saugerties United Methodist Church was the setting of the wedding of Miss Norma Jacqueline Carle, Pardee's Trailer Park, Kingston, and Stephen Warren Sahler of Lake Katrine. The double ring ceremony took place Saturday, Sept. 4 with the Rev. William Baudendistel officiating.

Mrs. David Bright, organist, accompanied Mrs. John Althier who sang traditional wedding selections.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boon of Pardee's Trailer Park, Kingston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen D. Sahler of Stone Ridge.

The bride was escorted to the altar by Robert Elston of Stone Ridge in a white chiffon gown. Lace appliques trimmed the sleeves and collar of the gown and a large bow accented the waist at the back. The bride wore a three-tiered veil and carried a prayer book covered with an orchid and pompons.

Mrs. Earl Carle Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, West Chester Street, Kingston, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a silver blue dress, fashioned with a fitted bodice, and navy blue accessories. She also wore a white Spanish lace headpiece.

The brother of the bride, Earl Carle Jr., West Chester Street, Kingston, was best man.

A reception was held at Camelot Inn, Poughkeepsie.

For her wedding trip to Lake George and the southern states, the bride selected a beige A-line dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Sahler is a graduate of Arlington grade and high schools. Her husband was graduated from Lake Katrine elementary school and Kingston High School. Mr. and Mrs. Sahler will make their home at Orlando, Fla.

Family Centered Program Here Friday

On Friday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m., the Family Centered Maternity Association of Ulster County will present a program on Family Centered Maternity Care in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 22 Livingston Street, Kingston.

The program will include brief talks by four professional people from Schenectady, the city which is noted for having some of the most liberal programs of Family Centered Maternity Care in their hospitals in the country. A childbirth film will also be shown.

Gordon Ustick, president of the Family Centered Maternity Association of Ulster County, will introduce the four speakers, each of whom will give a short presentation on Family Centered Maternity Care.

Jerome Stewart, executive director of St. Clare's Hospital, Schenectady, will speak on "A Hospital Administrator Looks at Family Centered Maternity Care in His Hospital."

Mr. Stewart graduated from Fordham University with a BA degree in 1950. He received a Master's Degree in Social Science there in 1952. In 1956 he received a Master's in Hospital Administration from Columbia University School of Hospital Administration. He has been associated with a number of health institutions in the northeast, including hospitals in Long Island, Staten Island, Poughkeepsie, Pennsylvania and Plattsburgh. He joined the staff of St. Clare's Hospital in 1968. He has maintained an active interest in all types of community activities, has taught in colleges and has authored several papers on health affairs for a number of hospital journals. He is a fellow in the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Mrs. Russell Riemschneider, R.N., Supervisor of Obstetrical Nurses at Ellis Hospital, Schenectady, graduated from Allegheny General Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh in 1954. She taught and worked in a supervisory position at hospitals in Pittsburgh until she came to Ellis Hospital. She was a general staff nurse there from 1957 to 1967 when she assumed her present position. Mrs. Riemschneider will discuss, "An Obstetrical Supervisor Looks at Family Centered Maternity Care in Her Hospital."

The third speaker, August Schwenk, M.D., is Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology at St. Clare's Hospital in Schenectady. He also practices OB/GYN in that city. He is a graduate of St. Lawrence University, Hofstra University and received a Master's Degree in Biology and Genetics from Wesleyan University. His medical degree is from McGill University in Montreal. He interned at Ellis Hospital in Schenectady where he was also Chief Resident of OB/GYN in 1963-1964. He is a member of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He will speak on "A Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology Looks at Family Centered Maternity Care in His Hospital."

Mrs. Leonard Desmond, R.N., a Lamaze teacher certified by the American Society of Psychoprophaxis, will speak on "A Lamaze Teacher Looks At Family Centered Maternity Care in Her Community." Mrs. Desmond graduated with a BSN and RN from the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. in 1962. She worked as a volunteer Public Health Nurse for the Alaska Jesuit Missions from 1962-1964 and as a Visiting Nurse for the UNS of New York City from 1964-1965.

Mrs. Desmond has taught Lamaze prepared childbirth courses for the Family Centered Maternity Association of Schenectady since 1968.

A film, Not Me Alone, will be shown and a question and answer period will be held.

SETTING OCTOBER DATE—

The Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary is busy these days planning another fund raising event for October 28. Activities on that day will include a gala card party. Meeting last week to discuss details were (l-r) Mrs. William Cranston, Mrs. Thomas Lee and Mrs. G. Knute Beichert. All proceeds will benefit the patients in the hospital and permit the Auxiliary to continue its many projects. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

New Paltz Study Club Announces House Tour

Picture a living room with ruby red carpeting and an entire wall of white Vermont marble; a family room with a fireplace of hand-picked old red brick, a super-modern charcoal grill and picture windows looking west on the favorite view of all Paltz dwellers. Imagine a spacious master bedroom with the same view of the hills and an alcove big enough for a man-sized desk. Think of wall-to-wall carpets in more jewel tones—sapphire, amethyst and jade—a built-in, glass-doored gun cabinet and a bathroom with golden faucets. Go another step to the lower ground level where you will find a workroom for the men of the house, a sauna bath for all and an outdoor dining area (complete with another gas-charcoal grill) looking out over a swimming pool and a sweep of green lawn.

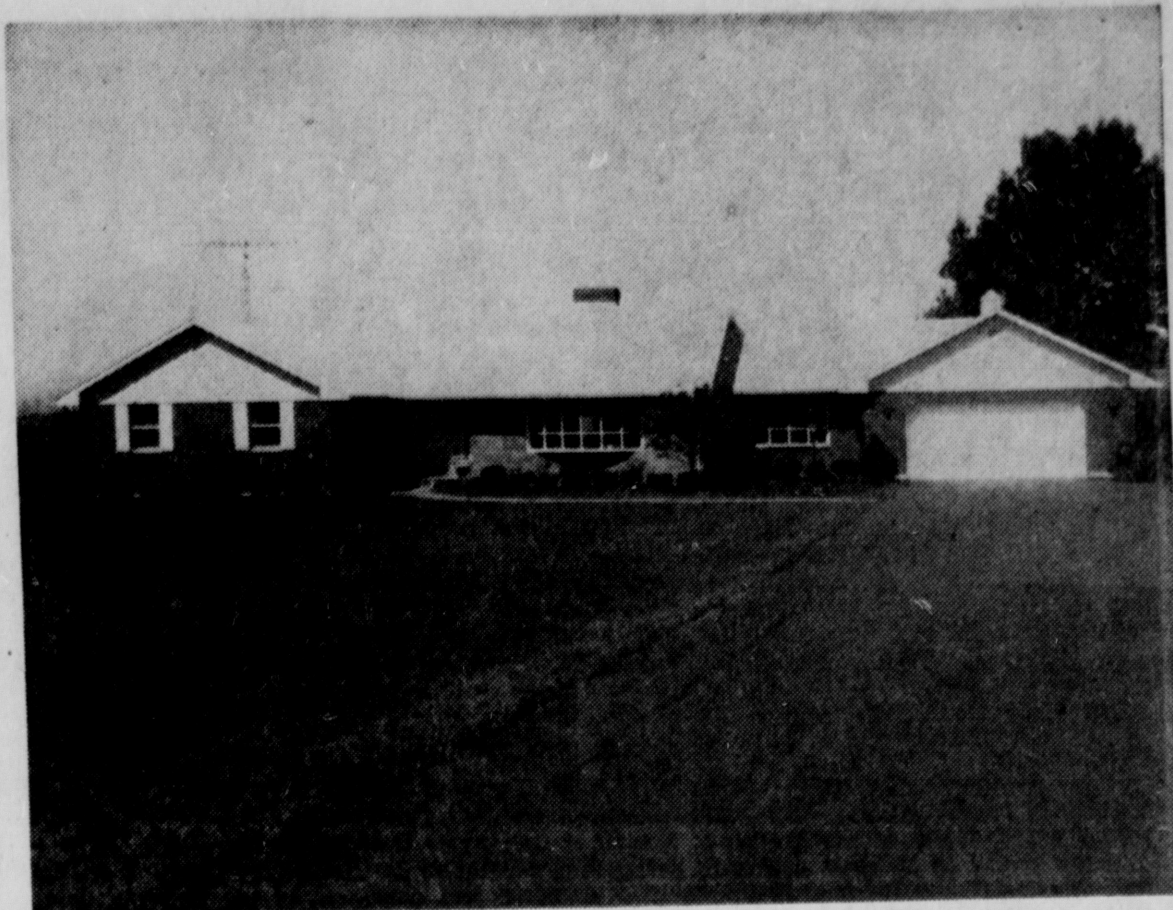

These are a few interesting glimpses into the home of Peter J. Savago, Chairman of the Ulster Board of Legislators, his wife Ethel and their children Peter J. Junior ("P.J."), John and Susan. The house can be seen Oct.

16 on the House Tour of the Study Club of New Paltz.

In the old days, houses had a "parlor" for use when company came and a "sitting room" for the family every day.

Equivalents today are contemporary living rooms and "family rooms." The Savago house offers exceptionally interesting contrast in this formality and informality. The living room with its marble wall and red wing chairs flanking the fireplace and matching the carpeting, leads into a conventional dining room with Early American style maple furniture and Colonial Provincial wallpaper matched by curtains. The "family room" which opens on a wide redwood sundeck is where the action is, the setting "for a lot of living," according to Mrs. Savago, including "cook-ins" with Pete often presiding at the grill.

Both Peter and Ethel Savago are native to New Paltz, so it is particularly satisfying to them to have achieved a house so perfect for indoor and outdoor living.

HOUSE TOUR sponsored by the New Paltz Study Club October 16 will include the home of Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster Board of Legislators. The objective of the tour is to present both traditional and contemporary styles in architecture and decor. On the day of the tour, tea will be served continuously under the direction of Miss Mavis Taylor and Mrs. William Waters in the Joe Deyo Room of the New Paltz Savings Bank.

SAVAGO LIVING ROOM—Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Savago in their red-carpeted living room. They are standing next to the wall of white marble. The Savago house has been selected for inclusion in the New Paltz house tour because it presents an interesting contrast between formality and informality.

ward Rusczyk, Martha's Court.

Donations should be marked for distribution and separated into groups—men, women, boys, girls and infants.

Halcyon Park

The September meeting of Halcyon Park Home Extension was held recently at the home of Mrs. Rita Kessick. Mrs. June West and Lorraine Brown served as hostesses and co-hostesses, respectively. The newly elected officers are Pat Peck, chairman; Jean Hatt, co-chairman; Marge Sainsbury, treasurer; Vivian Caldwell, secretary; and Dolores Baschnagel, publicity. Members were requested to donate as many Betty Crocker coupons as possible for the Kidney Machine Fund and members who had volunteered their time for Ulster County Infirmary were thanked. More volunteers are still needed, however.

The Christmas Open House is scheduled for October 20 in Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Broadway. The group will teach the art of making pine cone wreaths. A penny social was held after the meeting and refreshments were served.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Barbara Stewart. Mary Ann Juhl will speak on the theme for the October meeting, "Apples From Eve."

Fellowship Guild

A rummage sale will be given by Fellowship Guild at First Presbyterian Church Annex on Wednesday, Sept. 29 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 30 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at corner of Elmendorf Street and Tremper Avenue, Kingston.

Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a rummage sale at the Church Hall, 255 Hasbrouck Avenue, Wednesday, Sept. 23 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All members are urged to bring clothing and other articles to the Church Hall Tuesday evening or contact committee members to have items picked up.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

She's Sick of Playing Piano for Guests

DEAR ABBY: When we have company for dinner, my father asks them in front of me how would they like to hear me play the piano. What can they say? So I have to play the piano for them. I didn't mind it so much when I was younger because it was cute, but I am 15 years old now, and it's embarrassing.

I have told my dad I would rather not play for company anymore, but he asks me anyway. I know he's proud of me, but it is evident to everyone in my family (except him) the guests are bored and they could care less how I play the piano.

What should I do?

DADDY'S LITTLE PIANIST

DEAR PIANIST: Appeal to your father again, and enlist the support of your family. P.S. Your company is lucky. Ours had to listen to my twin sister and me play violin duets until we were 18 years old.

DEAR ABBY: My problem sounds something like a letter out of your column, but here it is: I have a very good friend (call him "Bill") whom I've known all my life. We are more like brothers than friends. Bill married a girl I'll call Sue six years ago. Sue's a terrific girl and we three get along just fine.

Well, Bill and Sue didn't want any children for the first three years of their marriage, but for the last three years they've been trying without success. They saw several doctors who agreed that Sue was okay, but the trouble was Bill's.

Last week, when I was at Bill and Sue's for dinner, they knocked me cold with the suggestion that I father Sue's child! Bill said he would prefer bringing up the child of his wife and best friend than adopting one of unknown origin. He said it was not unlike artificial insemination, only the test tube phase was eliminated and he'd know who the father was.

Abby, I've always had a special thing for Sue, but only in my dreams, and I couldn't bring myself to go thru with such a scheme, and I told them so. They thought I was foolish. What do you think?

MIDDLEMAN
DEAR MIDDLE: I think you're right, and they are foolish.

DEAR ABBY: Our son was playing ball and accidentally broke a huge picture window in our neighbor's home. I'll call these neighbors the Smiths.

The Smiths immediately taped the window and put boards over it so nobody would get cut. That evening my husband went over there and expressed his regrets and gave the Smiths the money to get the window replaced. The Smiths are very well off and could have afforded to replace the window themselves, but we felt responsible.

Well, it has been over three months and that window is still taped and boarded, and it is a terrible eyesore to this lovely neighborhood. Since the Smiths accepted the money from my husband, aren't they obligated to fix the window? Have you any suggestions on how we can get them to do it?

MAD IN L.A.

DEAR MAD: Of course they should repair the broken window at once. Remind them! Your mistake was giving them the money. You should have made arrangements to replace the window at once, and paid for it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WONDERING IN EL PASO": Quit wondering. He is telling you the truth. There is indeed an exchange program between Greek and American airmen, and the Greek men are not permitted to marry anyone who is not a citizen of Greece.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. (Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. 9:25 a.m. WKNY-1490)

Paltz Concert Choir Auditions Scheduled for Wednesday

The Concert Choir of the State University College at New Paltz is holding fall auditions for its 1971-72 concert season until Wednesday, Sept. 22. Any member of the college community and the community-at-large are welcome.

Auditions are being held every day from 1-5 and 7-9 in room 126 of the College Theatre. Candidates may sign up for an audition time in the office of the Department of Music (College Theatre - 102) or call 257-2404 for further information. Auditions are simple and brief; candidates are not expected to bring music.

The Concert Choir is a mixed chorus of approximately fifty to sixty singers dedicated to the performance of sacred and secular music of high calibre. Under the direction of Peter Bagley, Associate Professor of Music, the activities of the choir include formal evening concerts for the campus community, assembly programs for area schools and extensive off-campus tours within New York State. Concerts presented on campus often include the performance of a major choral work such as J. S. Bach's Passion according to St. John or Schubert's Mass in A-flat, which was presented last season under the direction of the well-known choral conductor David Randolph of New York City.

Rehearsals of the Concert Choir will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The first rehearsal will take place on Wednesday, September 22 at 7 p.m. in room 20 of the

THE UNITED WAY—Mayor Francis R. Koenig is flanked by Brandon D. Alexander (L) and Anthony Triulzi as he signs document designating September as United Way Month in Kingston. Alexander is a member of the board of directors and chairman of the planning committee for the United Way. Triulzi, administrator of Kingston Hospital, is the United Way president this year. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

KINGSTON The annual fund drive of United Way of Ulster County will kickoff with a get-together for campaign workers at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday evening, Sept. 23.

The United Way, formerly the Ulster County Community Chest, is seeking to raise $468,000 to meet the operating needs of its 15 member agencies serving the health, welfare, and recreational — character building needs of the county.

This year's drive is headed by Stanley J. Petro Jr., a lifelong resident of Kingston. Petro attended Kingston High School and Siena College in Albany, and is a U.S. Navy veteran. He was City Treasurer in former Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan's administration. In the United Way effort, he represents the Kingston Financial Council, which is spearheading this year's campaign.

Campaign is Alfred J. Brocco, assistant for manufacturing at the Kingston IBM plant. He joined IBM in 1948 after U.S. Army service which included a tour as communications officer for the Air Force in Okinawa. He was recalled to active duty for 17 months during the Korean conflict in 1951. He is a graduate of Glasco Elementary School, Saugerties High School, Officer Candidate School, Kessler AFB, Electronic School, Lowry AFB, Advanced Electronics School and various IBM educational courses.

The campaign's opening night events on Thursday will feature entertainment, lighting of the United Way torch, and inductions of campaign leaders. A get acquainted fellowship hour will be open to all campaign workers and those who are willing to become workers at no charge. The cost of the event will be underwritten by friends of the United Way and none of it will come from contributed campaign funds, according to John R. Warren, United Way executive director.

Warning From Chamber Official

KINGSTON Len Cane, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County, today cautioned prospective investors against involvement with companies whose marketing plans promise large incomes by making sales and recruiting distributors easily. He urged would-be investors to get first hand information on multi-level marketing organizations from persons who have been associated with such companies for at least a year.

Business Bureaus, Inc., which detailed a Federal Trade Commission cease and desist order against Bestline Products, Inc., San Jose, Cal., a multi-level marketing program to sell household, commercial and industrial cleaners through franchised distributors.

The complaint alleged that the plan was based on virtually endless recruiting of participants with geometric increases in the number necessary to produce the earnings represented and implied. The FTC maintained that actually the overall number of potential participants remains relatively constant. As a result, Cane noted that participants often would not be able to find additional investors in a given community or area by the time they enter the program simply because the recruiting activities by earlier participants exhausted the number of prospects.

Cane emphasized that wise investors are advised in considering such a business venture to weigh the factors ordinarily involved in establishing independent small businesses and any state and local requirements.

County GOP Appoints Duo To Head Ticket Committee

Two well known Republican women have been appointed as chairmen of ticket sales for the upcoming Ulster County Republican Dinner to be held Sunday, Oct. 3 in the Granit Hotel in Kerhonkson.

Mrs. John (Lillian) Salapatis of Kingston and Mrs. Monroe Longendyke of Woodstock have agreed to serve in that capacity, according to an announcement made by Peter J. Savago, dinner chairman and chairman of the Ulster County organizations.

Noting that ticket sales have been brisk, Savago said they are "in fact better than usual." The 7:30 p.m. dinner will be preceded by a cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m. Tickets may be secured from the ticket women's ability to work together said. "If their past efforts are any judgement we can expect an overflow crowd at the Granit on Oct. 3."

Both Mrs. Salapatis and Mrs. Longendyke are known for their work within the party having served in various capacities in local campaigns, congressional and gubernatorial campaigns and other Republican affiliated activities. They are both active community workers for various civic and charitable organizations.

Currently Mrs. Salapatis is a graduate of New Paltz High School and was a well known sports figure at that time. He began his career in politics with his election as New Paltz Town Clerk in 1956. Three years later he became supervisor and in 1966 was elected chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. When the Legislature became the county's governing body, Savago was named to its chairmanship also.

Chairman of hostesses for the gala occasion is Mrs. Robert (June) Davidson. A native of Shokan, she is presently president of the Ulster County Republican Woman's Club. She is presently serving where she resides with her husband and two sons.

Smudge Pots Are Eliminated From Ulster Fruit Orchards

GETTING IN SHAPE—The Col. Chandler Drive has had more than vehicular traffic over the past three weeks. Armed forces recruiters, who volunteered to march 100 miles as part of a Kingston Veterans Association fund-raising drive, have been getting in shape for the long walk. Shown in their rigorous training schedule are (L) Kenneth Thorpe (Navy), Frank Frazier (Army), Donald Misner (Marines) and Michael Bordick (Air Force). (Freeman photo by Kruh)

The elimination of smudge pots, a serious air pollution factor, and the substitution of other special equipment to prevent frost damage in Ulster County fruit orchards was announced this week by County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago, (R-Dist. 8).

The changeover here came about through an agreement with the Agriculture Extension Service and the Cornell Experimental Station. This determination was reached after a conference with the local Agricultural Extension Service and after the fruit growers had

Two Apply For Drug Post

KINGSTON The qualifications calls for a college degree or equivalent in education, social work or business administration. Experience must cover special training in drug abuse, administration, psychology or in related fields. Also experience in teaching or other drug programs, VISTA or others is desirable.

Duties call for coordination, control and audit of all County Drug Commission and sub-agency programs. Advise and assist requesting agencies in preparing proposals for county, state and federal approval, maintain liaison with existing Narcotic Guidance Councils and assist in formation of additional councils where needed.

At least two applications have been made for the position of administrative director of the Ulster County Drug Commission. The position calls for coordinating the commissions and sub-agencies programs.

Written resumes should be sent to Dr. Edmund Reppert, acting chairman care of the Ulster County Drug Commission, County Office Building, Kingston.

Although the finance committee of the Legislature has not determined the title and salary for the position, the commission is seeking applications for interested candidates. The position was created at the Sept. 9 meeting of the Legislature.

Area Narcotics Council To Form Committees

ACCORD Vincent Dunn, head of the council, said it is planned to get the enrolled help of more parents and fraternal groups to add momentum to the local narcotic guidance council program.

Dunn reported that last week's narcotic guidance council meeting was met very enthusiastically by those in attendance.

The Rochester Narcotics Council will meet Tuesday, at the Accord Reformed Church, Route 209 south of Accord, at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of this meeting will be the formation of committees. Evan D. Lane, the New York Narcotic Addiction Control Commission representative from Spring Valley will attend to help in forming them.

Kingston Victory a Confidence Builder

By IRA FUSFELD

POUGHKEEPSIE used Joe Riley, the hustling little senior, for the bulk of the work. Riley just kicked and struggled until he was free several times and eventually put the ball over from the nine on an end sweep and Kingston had a 6-0 edge.

There was a pass in the Maroon march and it was an important one as John Tiano took a screen toss 10 yards to bring the pigskin to the 19.

The offense then began to sputter and despite one good play in which Littlefield hit Bruce McCrindle for 12 yards the Maroons couldn't get going after the first TD.

Poughkeepsie, meanwhile, brought the ball to the Kingston half, started to generate something in the third quarter. The Pioneers began to go to the outside on the Maroon defense instead of up the middle away.

where they had been constantly thwarted. The tactic paid off. Aided by a recovered fumble which the KHS quarterback Poughkeepsie march didn't last he kept the ball himself for good yardage.

On one play he turned Wesley Cole loose for 18 yards. Another possession after a Pioneer punt saw Wait hit John Carter for 27 yards and bring the Maroons touchdown was a strange one and Jeff, who came up with the two interceptions. Or Joe Houghtaling, whom Badalato had planned to alternate with Tiano for a screen play he fumbled — right to the 16, Houghtaling combined middle and nearly scored. But PHS quarterbacks for losses. And there were others, too many to mention.

"It was a long time coming," Badalato said of the win. "I'm glad these kids got a taste of victory."

He might have added that he was happy to have that unfamiliar feeling too.

HIGHLAND players gone from last season's where he left off when he later, by this time in the second stanza, it scored as Perry swept the end for 35 yards and a touchdown.

Don't let anyone kid you, champs? The reasons are completed a 55 yard Highland Ron drive with a two yard TD jaunt. Barrington ran in for two touchdowns.

Highland High School is just as last Monroe and John Barrington. Barrington ran in for two touchdowns. The three combined to 187 points.

When Randy Smith recovered a fumble, Highland in the third quarter, Carlos Gander a supposedly strong fumble. Though Coach Lem was on its way again. Seven Rodriguez picked up a fumble in the plays after the RVC miscue, the and soon after Ron threw to maul Rondout as Perry carried in from the play.

The final tally came when Highland tried an onside kick Rodriguez picked o Hys Van Wagenen pass and ran 46 yards for the score.

Final totals showed Perry connected on just four of 16 passes. Next week Highland tests Ellenville while Rondout hosts New Paltz.

Sawyer Running Game the Key to Triumph

END SWEEP — Red Hook High School's Bill Reid (22) is off to the races as Wallkill's John Koparki (26) follows in hot pursuit. The Raiders made a successful debut into the UCAL Saturday by beating Wallkill, 13-2. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Pais Paces Red Hook

By TIM SCHUSTER

RED HOOK High School was christened into the UCAL Saturday by ripping Wallkill 13-2, and in the process introduced a name to area football fans which may become well known. Coach John Neilson played a freshman, Joe Pais, at the starting fullback and middle linebacker positions and the youngsters turned in good performances after shaking off the jitters in the first quarter.

The 5-8, 205 pound Pais worked well in keeping the Red Hook line nearly impenetrable along with the other defensive workers. The Red Raiders struck swiftly, scoring in the first series of downs from the Wallkill 30 on a pass from quarterback Dan Theberge to end Jerry Husman. Pais kicked the conversion and it was 7-0. Bill Reid sparked a late drive with two lengthy runs totalling 39 yards.

Red Hook's second score came in the last minute of the first half and was set up by a pass interception by Randy Fister. Gary O'Connor carried for a first down to the seven, Theberge lugged to the four, and Pais bulled up the middle for the score. The extra point attempt was blocked.

Wallkill's only points were the result of a safety in the final minute of the game as a Red Hook runner was nailed in the end zone by Bob Faurote.

The first half was a mixture of ecstasy and grief for the Raider fans, as several good plays were turned back because of penalties. Of the team's total of 78 yards penalized for the game, 63 came in the first half.

One of those plays was a 40 yard run in the first period, and another a 60 yard pass play to Husman in the second quarter.

Quarterback Theberge led his own rushing game, picking up 46 on the ground. Gary O'Connor added 37 yards, and within two minutes of starting time.

Red Hook's second score came in the last minute of the first half and was set up by a pass interception by Randy Fister. Gary O'Connor carried only to lose the ball on downs.

Statistics gave Red Hook the edge 140 yards to 82 in rushing, and a substantial margin in penalties, but the rest do not show a landslide in either direction.

Passing was not generally up to late season form, with Theberge hitting only two of 14 and Wallkill quarterback Mike Dunn connecting on three of 14.

Red Hook will travel to Pine Bush this Saturday for what appears to be a more closely contested match, while Wallkill will make another attempt to get on the winning track against Ontario.

SAUGERTIES High School, one of the favorites of the DCSL football race this season, was impressive in its 21-12 defeat of Christian Brothers Academy here Saturday.

Coach Fred Seither said that the heavy duty running which sustained the Sawyers all afternoon was split very nicely among running backs Ray Bean, Mike Bond, fullback Dave Fuller and quarterback Rich Koegel.

And the defense, which did not allow a score in the first half, finally gave up two touchdowns on one hairy play in the third period and one mistake in the fourth.

Saugerties tallied in the opening quarter on a short pass from Koegel to Mike Bond from three yards out. Workhorse Dave Fuller, another of the complete starting backfield returning from last year, charged in from three yards out in the second period.

And Koegel hit Jim Meyer in the fourth period from about seven yards away from the endzone for the final Saugerties score.

Koegel was able to go with the short pass effectively, mixing it up with several competent runners, to keep the CBA defense guessing.

Coach Seither noted with some satisfaction that it was "the first time I remember" that Saugerties has been able to convert three times in a row on Dave Fuller's kicking toe.

CBA, a larger, heavier team from the Capital District, reached its goal in the third period on a catch by Monaco, an end, which was plucked from the defensive back's fingertips in what appeared might for an interception. The score was from 15 yards out.

And Christian Brothers' second touchdown might have been averted if Saugerties had had 11 players on the field. The Sawyer safety had to cover a pass that should have been

Onteora Upends Pine Bush

By CHARLES J. TIANO

BOICEVILLE

"We're the greatest," exulted first year coach Joe DiGiovanni after Onteora High had surprised favored Pine Bush 6-0 in Saturday's Ulster County Athletic League football opener for the two teams.

The Indians' unexpected victory upset Coach DiGiovanni's timetable and opened the closed Onteora's rebuilding program in one, as the theatre critics might say.

"Next year came well ahead of schedule for the Indians," quipped a sideline observer. An electrifying 80-yard off quipped a sideline observer. Later in the quarter, Bob Phelan in the second quarter Kirby and Earnie Young the Onteora 29 where Onteora's Bon Guglielmetta recovered a fumble.

"It was a breakaway," said Onteora dominated the desultory second half marked by two key breaks — a fumble recovery by Pine Bush's Chuck Walters on the PB 32 and Youngs' interception of an Indian pass on the Pine Bush 24.

"The boys came along very fast during the week," said DiGiovanni, "obviously pleased with his winning debut. I particularly like the way they pulled themselves together in the second half. We made some mistakes but we can work on those."

Pheland and John Langling gave Onteora some solid running, but it was the defense that dominated this opener. Mark Tese, sophomore Ray Gallagher and Dave Nissen were particularly outstanding on defense.

DiGiovanni's newly-acquired optimism about the 1971 campaign was reflected in the makeup of Onteora's offensive unit which showed six juniors, a sophomore and four seniors.

Coach DiGiovanni had warm praise for his two assistants — Tom Kinis and Joseph Ahouse. "They got the boys up, especially on defense," said DiGiovanni. "We looked a lot better than we did a week ago."

Liberty Wins

LIBERTY even better, holding Ellenville

Pete Mann broke up a scoreless game with a five-yard touchdown run late in the fourth quarter to pace Liberty High School to an 8-0 win over Ellenville in the two team's UCAL opener here Saturday.

Mann's score came three plays after Liberty had intercepted a Wayne Grey pass and brought the ball to the Ellies 18 yard line.

Liberty later added two points when guard Bill Tolani pinned Keith Trappnell in the end zone for a safety.

The contest was strictly a defensive battle with the smaller Ellenville team plugging up the middle forcing Liberty to the outside where it could rarely make any headway.

But the Liberty defense was to 39 yards on the ground and a minus three in the air.

It was Ellenville's debut into the Ulster County League while Liberty was starting another season on the right track. The Indians have had winning UCAL records for the last ten seasons. Next week Liberty is at Marlboro and Ellenville hosts Highland.

Green Bay Loses Game, Coach

By GENE W. HINTZ
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Devine was carried from the field about opening game with a broken leg. The fracture came when Packers, indeed, had not given him a chance to play. Not only did the Green Bay former tackle Bob Hyland slid up. Packers—as has been the case into Devine on a sidelines play more—lose their opener. They Doug Hart. The New York Giants, in a Hart, Hyland said. "I pushed down and then slid scores—and the passing of been around for longer than passes—one of six yards, one of 39 yards and one of 81 yards. The 39-yarder came after the non-fumble. On that one, Blanchard had punted and the ball struck the heel of Green Bay safety Al Randolph. Joe Green recovered and Tartenton converted for the touchdown on the next play. Green also recovered one of Dave Hampton's two end zone fumbles for touchdowns. Ralph Heck recovered the other as the Giants built a 28-7 lead with only seconds to go in the half. Zeke Bratkowski, who started at quarterback for Green Bay, then engineered a 52-yard drive with just seconds to go in the half, hitting Hampton for the touchdown on a 19-yard pass.

behind 42-31, head Coach Dan were: "They didn't give up, Only an interception by Jim in the final two minutes of the Hiles in the last minute of play first half. A safety scored when the ball was centered over the head of Giants' punter Tom Blanchard. "I don't recall such a game of in my time with the Packers," said Dave Hanner, who took over the field strategy after a fumble that led to the Giants' go-ahead touchdown. Tartenton hit Dick Houston with three of his touchdown passes—one of six yards, one of 39 yards and one of 81 yards. The 39-yarder came after the non-fumble. Colts Recognize 'Real Thing'

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, who played some sloppy ball last season but went on to win the Super Bowl, weren't too perturbed after losing four of six exhibition games.

"Now that the real thing is here, I'm sure we'll be all right," center Bill Curry promised after the Colts posted their first losing preseason record since 1958.

On Sunday, in a National Football League opener, the Colts blanked the New York Jets 22-0 with an all-around effort that probably surpassed any of their 1970 conquests.

With linebacker Ray May and Mike Curtis combining for 15 tackles and five assists, and the defensive secondary back together after a siege of injuries, the Colts manhandled the Jets' offense.

New York had 118 total yards, seven first downs, and never advanced beyond midfield as Al Woodall started at quarterback for injured Joe Namath.

The Colts, meantime, were able to play ball control in the rain and mud, with second-year running back Norm "The Bull" Bulaich setting a club record with 198 yards gained on 22 carries.

Bulaich sprained an ankle on his fourth carry, but came back to score on a 67-yard run and contribute important yardage prior to three field goals by Jim O'Brien of 38, 21, and 21 yards.

Even after the sparkling performance, Bulaich's ankle remained a concern, but precautionary X-rays proved negative.

Earl Morrall completed five of 13 passes for 78 yards before turning over Baltimore's quarterback chores to John Unitas, who was activated just before the game.

Unitas, who made a speedy recovery from an operation to repair a torn Achilles tendon suffered in April, was given an ovation when he took the field. But he failed to direct a touchdown with a first down on one, when he collided with one ball carrier and then tossed two incompletions.

The 37-year-old quarterback said he had no trouble setting up to pass, but admitted he needed work on timing with new running backs.

Plunkett, Manning Create NFL Upsets

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rookie quarterbacks Jim Plunkett and Archie Manning made spectacular pro debuts to spice an incredible opening Sunday in the National Football League.

Plunkett and Manning, the No. 1 and No. 2 picks in last January's pro draft, led the New England Patriots and New Orleans Saints to the two most startling upsets on an opening day replete with surprises.

Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford, threw two touchdown passes as the Pats stunned the Oakland Raiders 20-6.

Manning, who starred for Mississippi in college, sprinted around left end from the one on the last play of the game, to give the Saints an astounding 24-20 upset over the Los Angeles Rams.

Another rookie, cornerback Tom Hayes, from San Diego State, played a major role as the Atlanta Falcons humbled the favored San Francisco 49ers 20-17.

In other surprises the San Diego Chargers whipped the Kansas City Chiefs 21-14, the New York Giants edged the Green Bay Packers 42-40, the Washington Redskins overcame the St. Louis Cardinals 24-17, the Chicago Bears tripped the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-15, the Cleveland Browns routed the Houston Oilers 31-0 and the Denver Broncos held the Miami Dolphins to a 10-10 tie.

Elsewhere, form stood up as the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Colts whacked the New York Jets 22-0, the Dallas Cowboys, the only unbeaten, untied club in the preseason schedule, downed the Buffalo Bills 49-37 and the Cincinnati Bengals trampled the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14.

"Now we're winners and we want to keep it that way," said an elated Plunkett after his two TD passes in the second half upset the Raiders. His first scoring pass was a 33-yarder to Ron Sellers and the second a 20-yarder to Tom Beer.

Before his toss to Beer on a fake handoff Plunkett had set up the play of a 39-yard aerial to Randy Vataha.

"I might have made a mistake, but I never really thought about the pass," said Manning after his winning end run against the Rams on a pass-option play.

"I thought 'only one yard' and doggone it I knew I was going to get good blocking," Manning continued. "I saw a crack and dove and I knew I got over."

Manning had completed three passes for 42 yards to set up his winning sprint and give the Saints their first NFL victory after 12 consecutive losses.

Four interceptions of John Elrod passes, coupled with two Atlanta scoring passes from Bob Berry to Ken Burrow, helped the Falcons upset the 49ers.

But it was the rookie "Mr. Hayes" as coach Norm Van Brocklin called him, that preserved the Falcons' triumph. He scooped up a fumble in the last three seconds on a play that erupted into a brawl as players from both benches spilled onto the field.

"I guess I started it," said Hayes who earlier had made two key interceptions. "One guy hit me when I was falling. I threw the ball at him because he hit me after the whistle. Then the fists started swinging everywhere."

A 26-yard run by Mike Garrett, a former Chief, gave the Chargers their victory over Kansas City. The Chiefs led 14-0 at halftime, but the Chargers rallied to tie on two TD passes by John Hadl before Garrett's winning scamper.

The Redskins capitalized on four interceptions and three fumble recoveries to trip the Cardinals. The Bears scored twice in the last four minutes after recovering Pittsburgh fumbles to down the Steelers.

Jackie Stewart Still Speeding

By United Press International
Knowing that he has already clinched the world drivers' championship hasn't slowed down Jackie Stewart.

Stewart fought off a challenge from Sweden's Ronnie Peterson however, as American Mark Donohue finished third in a Sunday to guide his blue McLaren to victory in the Tyrrell-Ford to victory in the McLaren in his first Formula One race. New Zealand's Denis Hulme was fourth in another Grand Prix.

The race was called after 64 McLaren and Reine Wisell of the 80 scheduled laps Sweden was fifth in a Lotus. because of heavy fog and rain. Rain also interfered with Peterson, who had twice held other races scheduled on the lead before spinning off the Sunday.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Unexpected startling and dramatic events can happen today and tonight to give you the opportunity to work conditions out with other persons. Also good for entertaining those with whom you have any powerful relationship, but realize that whatever arises, whether it appears good or bad, has big opportunities for you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Some condition arises that could upset you emotionally if you aren't careful, so keep calm and handle satisfactorily. Make right agreements with others. Evening fine for amusement, entertaining.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Others bring you good ideas on how to get ahead that should be studied to see if they are practical. You are tempted to waste time today, but you had better start the work ahead of you with enthusiasm. Show you have wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can go out to enjoy pleasures that have eluded you until now and have a delightful time. You have some special talent through which you can add to present income. Do so.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Situations come up at home that are quite puzzling, but if studied well, will lead to more progress in the future. Become more successful by pursuing your finest ambitions. Do not speak too loudly with others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) An unexpected guest or short trip will result in some benefit for you, though you are hardly conscious of the fact now. Discuss your aims with people you like and gain their cooperation. Avoid strangers.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) Ideal day for any area of your work or personal life. The evening can be rewarding from the artistic standpoint. Entertain or be entertained. Get ahead quickly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your intuition tells you just where you are headed now and you get aid quietly from one you met recently. Prepare for some situation that may not be good for others but is for you. Keep alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to enjoy good friends now so glad about where they congregate and exchange views. Through them you can make new pals who will be worthwhile for your endeavors in the future. Don't argue.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Business matters today could mean much where success in the future is concerned, so get busy with such in a positive fashion. Get in touch with bigwigs and discuss your views, position. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A day to gad about seeing interesting people. Good also for planning trips or for making your life more interesting in other ways. Advancement is possible via the social ladder now. Take it easy tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Doing whatever brings you more harmony with advisors and business experts is good in a.m. Then get right down to work you have to do. Mate is here, so do not try to bring in a fine humor for romance in p.m. Go out to dinner, the theater.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young people whose ideas are very advanced who should be permitted to pursue them at the right schools where the most can be made of such a far-seeing nature. Then there can even be fame in this chart, as well as financial success. A leader is predicted.

Quite often, it's love at first sight.

The person most in need of anesthesia is the doll who goes in with a load of phony cheer to the room of a convalescent patient.

Personal responsibility is not the province entirely of the other fellow.

The guy who admires most the colorful leaves of autumn has no trees in his own yard.

An optimist is a fellow owning a ski lodge who hopes to make it big in September.

No, Gwendolyn, smoking pot isn't the way to "higher" education.

"Crab" grass usually belongs to the fanatic who tweezers a perfect lawn.

The leaves are beginning to turn — all except those you are supposed to turn over.

Quick Quiz

Q — What term is applied to a male duck?

A — The male duck is called a drake, and the young is a duckling. The female duck has no special name.

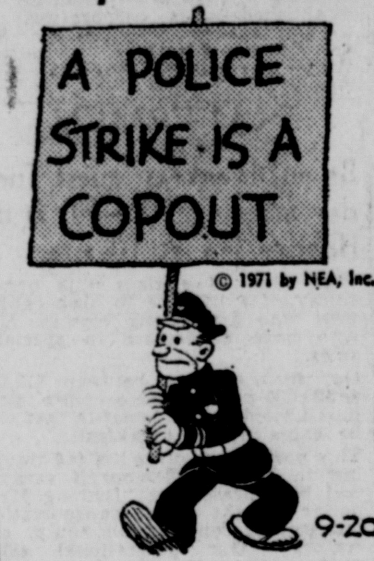

Q — What brothers signed the Declaration of Independence?

A — Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee of Virginia were the only brothers to sign the document.

Q — What are "quaker guns"?

A — Quaker guns is the name given dummy cannon placed in the portholes of ships or in forts to deceive the enemy. The term refers to the doctrines of non-violence taught by Quakers.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The word fan, referring to an enthusiast over sports or other entertainment is believed to be a contraction of the word fanatic, according to The World Almanac. Before 1900 the owner of the old St. Louis Browns referred to a man as a baseball fanatic. Newspaper headline writers shortened the term to fan.

WHY WE SAY

NAUGHTY
WORTHLESS: This word originally meant someone or something worthless, rather than bad or wicked. First it was a combination of words "not worth" and "ought," spelled both "naught" and "naught." The connotation of bad or wicked and the final "y" came later.

"It's up to you, Gronsky! Get in there and ..."

"... think of nothing but next year's contract!"

Timely Quotes

I'm a revolutionary, which means I want to overthrow capitalism. The United States is so dangerous that if my work is not successful in terms of making a positive revolution in this country, then I would prefer to see this country burned down to the ground.

—Lee Weiner, one of the famed "Chicago Seven" now working on a Ph.D. in sociology.

If the temporary sacrifices of each of these Americans will result in stopping the rise in the cost of living for all Americans, this is a goal worth sacrificing for.

—President Nixon, in a speech on his new economic program.

We are in the same ship, so we must make every effort not to sink together.

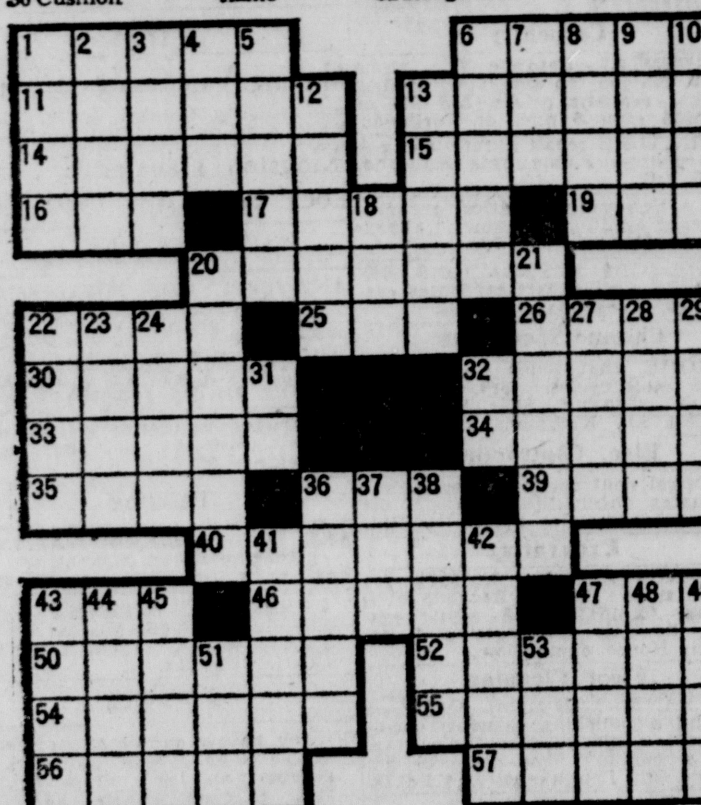

—Premier Eisaku Sato of Japan, on Japanese-U.S. relations.

Our (Democratic) party has room for hawks and doves, but not for mocking birds who chirp gleefully at those who are shooting at American boys.

—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Some Shows on Plus Side

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven with special appeal to young audiences — the rough-and-tumble comedy works pretty well. Then there is CBS's "Funny Face," also on Saturdays, with newcomer Sandy Duncan in the title role. This is the giddy adventures of a nice girl working her way through college in Los Angeles. Miss Duncan is a real find — fresh, appealing and amusing. The program itself shows an almost embarrassing kinship to "the Mary Tyler Moore Show" in the working-girl surroundings — the acid-tongued girl friend, the funny landlady and so on. The premiere program had our heroine doing live commercials for a used car lot, a Los Angeles TV phenomenon. Mostly because of work without his pants and getting to retrieve the stolen loot. For what it is — a show!

And if you like "O'Hara," you probably will find that Glenn Ford's new "Cade's County" on CBS Sundays slides down easily. The first time out, Sam Cade, the hero, was busy dodging a professional assassin. Ford plays a sober-sided sheriff of some southwestern area with a sort of angry conviction. There were auto chases, plenty of gun play but not much subtlety.

Cambode Fuel Almost Out

SAIGON (AP) — Communist commandos slipped into the outskirts of Phnom Penh today and wiped out two-thirds of Cambodia's civilian fuel supply, while in South Vietnam enemy sappers inflicted heavy casualties in five attacks just outside of Tay Ninh City.

Official reports said 21 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 64 wounded in coordinated mortar and commando attacks on the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 43rd Task Force and two other positions ranging from two to five miles northwest of Tay Ninh and about 10 miles from the Cambodian border.

The South Vietnamese command said 52 enemy troops were killed and 25 weapons captured in a nightlong battle.

Tay Ninh, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, is the forward base for South Vietnamese operations inside eastern Cambodia. It is 60 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

Field reports said the 13th North Vietnamese and Viet Cong Sapper Battalion, perhaps a total of 300 commandos, launched the attacks around Tay Ninh early today after a 100-round mortar barrage hit the sappers withdrew before dawn.

Field reports said most of the South Vietnamese casualties came from the shelling attack against the permanent positions. One infantry battalion of about 400 men suffered the most severe losses with 17 men killed and 43 wounded.

In Phnom Penh, about 30 sappers with rocket launchers blew up 15 large oil storage tanks, striking a heavy blow to Cambodia's struggling economy.

The tanks containing millions of gallons of gasoline, diesel and fuel oil went up in a roar of flames. Black smoke billowed more than 100 feet into the night sky and fire lit up the northern quarter of the Cambodian capital.

Associated Press correspondent Robin Mannock reported from Phnom Penh that the fires were still burning out of control at noon, spouting high-octane aviation gasoline and threatening to ignite new explosions.

The fires erupted when about 30 enemy sappers, who reportedly approached two tank complexes from the west by boat across marshlands, fired bazooka-type rockets into several tanks. Blazing gasoline and other fuels poured out and spread the blaze to other tanks.

The tank complexes, owned by the Esso and Shell oil companies, are located on the west bank of the Tonle River. An oil company official said at this stage it was impossible to estimate the full extent of the damage.

Workers at the scene said the commandos killed a sentry in a blockhouse and then cut their way through two layers of barbed wire.

Mannock said several unexploded plastic charges and a set of wire cutters were found inside the Shell compound. A third tank complex owned by Tela Khmer, the government oil company, escaped damage as did the Cambodian army's supply at another tank area located at Prek Phnœu, 10 miles north of Phnom Penh.

ALLIED PUSH — South Vietnamese troops backed by U. S. helicopter and naval gunfire, ambushed a flotilla of Communist sampans in the U Minh swamplands where more than 400 soldiers from both sides have been killed in six days of fierce fighting, military spokesmen said Sunday. Meanwhile, evacuation by foot, truck and "Huey" helicopters takes place at Mai Loc Saturday as 13-day South Vietnamese drive against Communist infiltration routes from Laos and across the demilitarized zone (DMZ) ends. Copter Crewmen on Stand In Col. Henderson Case

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The helicopter crewmen who figure in two of the four charges against Col. Ora K. Henderson were scheduled as witnesses today as Henderson's court-martial went into its fifth week.

They are Capt. Hugh C. Thompson, the helicopter pilot who came back from his flight over My Lai to report the killing of civilians, and Lawrence M. Colburn, his door gunner, who waded through mud and blood to rescue a living child from a pile of bodies in a ditch. In one count, Henderson is charged with failing to investigate reports "of excessive killing of noncombatants and a confrontation between a helicopter pilot and ground forces of his command."

Thompson, according to previous testimony, was that pilot. Another charge states Henderson was lying when he swore to an Army investigating committee "that he was positive he did not talk to W. O. Jerry R. Culverhouse or Spec. Lawrence M. Colburn on or about 18 March 1968."

Culverhouse testified Friday he was questioned by an officer but could not say if it was Henderson.

March 18, two days after My Lai, was the day when witnesses said Henderson received orders to investigate what happened in the village.

Testifying last November at the trial of Lt. William Calley Jr., Colburn said "ever since it happened, I've been trying to push it out of my head to forget what happened."

He also admitted under oath that he occasionally smoked marijuana.

"Did you use it that day?" he was asked.

A. No. I never used it before a mission.

Q. But you did use it?

A. After hours.

Q. Do you use it now?

A. Occasionally.

Howard reduced to involuntary manslaughter the charge that Medina allowed his troops to murder 100 other Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. Howard said the government had no doubt that Medina intended for the civilians to be killed.

"In my mind I do not feel that it was fair to expose Captain Medina to a murder conviction when, in my opinion, there is insufficient evidence," Howard said.

That leaves Medina facing one murder charge — that he shot and killed a Vietnamese woman outside the village of My Lai.

Medina Trial On Tuesday

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (UPI) — The My Lai court martial of Capt. Ernest L. Medina resumes Tuesday with Medina facing only one of the three murder charges leveled against him.

The other charges either were dismissed or reduced by the military judge, Col. Kenneth A. Howard.

Howard dismissed one of the charges — that Medina ordered a small boy killed — after a former soldier, Gene Oliver of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., testified he killed the boy on his own initiative, without any instructions from Medina.

Howard reduced to involuntary manslaughter the charge that Medina allowed his troops to murder 100 other Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. Howard said the government had no doubt that Medina intended for the civilians to be killed.

"In my mind I do not feel that it was fair to expose Captain Medina to a murder conviction when, in my opinion, there is insufficient evidence," Howard said.

Army National Guard Faces Manpower Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard faces a potential loss of about 100,000 men before next summer as draft-induced volunteers finish their obligated service, Pentagon officials say.

This will be offset only partially by enlistments of men with prior service in the regular Army and by 17 and 18-year-old recruits.

The prospect now worrying defense authorities is that the Guard will fall significantly below its authorized strength of 400,000 men for the first time in years, even if the draft is extended.

Draft calls are certain to be lower, so that few young men are likely to sign up with the Guard to avoid conscription into the Army.

Defense officials say a weakening of the Guard has serious implications for national security. The Guard, they say, has been given a more important role in the nation's war plans than ever before since the Regular Army is being slashed to its smallest size in more than 10 years.

The National Guard is starting a heavy recruiting campaign. But officials said they are not optimistic, despite Defense Department plans to ask Congress for money to pay enlistment and re-enlistment bonuses and to provide a number of incentives to join the Guard. The wave of losses this fiscal year will come from the drop-off of most of the young men who enlisted in the Guard in 1965, at a time when the United States was building up for the war in Vietnam with increased draft calls.

These men were exempted from the draft when they chose to enlist for about six months of active duty training after which they returned home as civilians with an additional 5½ years of obligation to drill regularly with a Guard or Reserve unit.

Only about 10 per cent of these young men are staying in the Guard after their six-year obligation expires, Guard officials report.
